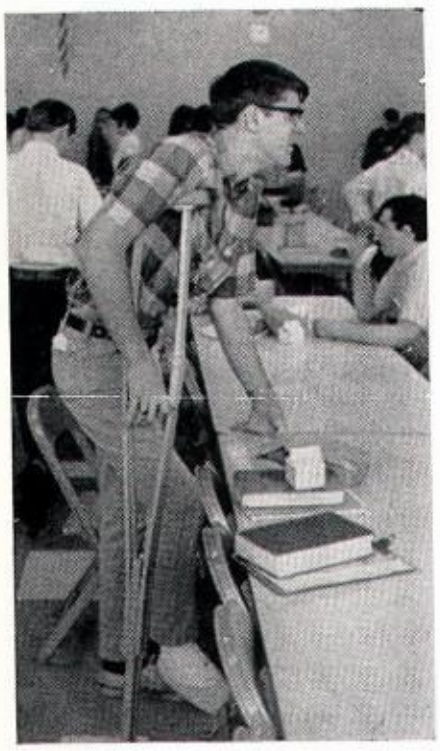
VOLUME LXI



FOREWORD

The continual search for true identity;
The individual with his characteristic hues;
Nature and humanity blended to form the everchanging
pattern of life,
Blessed with its joys, its hopes, and splendor.
Its fears, disappointments, and death;

Goals unattainable and goals achieved;
Growing and learning the challenge of life—
All a part of vital relationships.

With the passage of each day, each hour, time drifts away
Until its very essence becomes a sudden realization.

Thus, the emergence of a newly woven pattern
Containing all that we are or ever will be.
Each bead alone contributes to the splendid creation:
The everlasting kaleidoscope of life.

DEDICATION

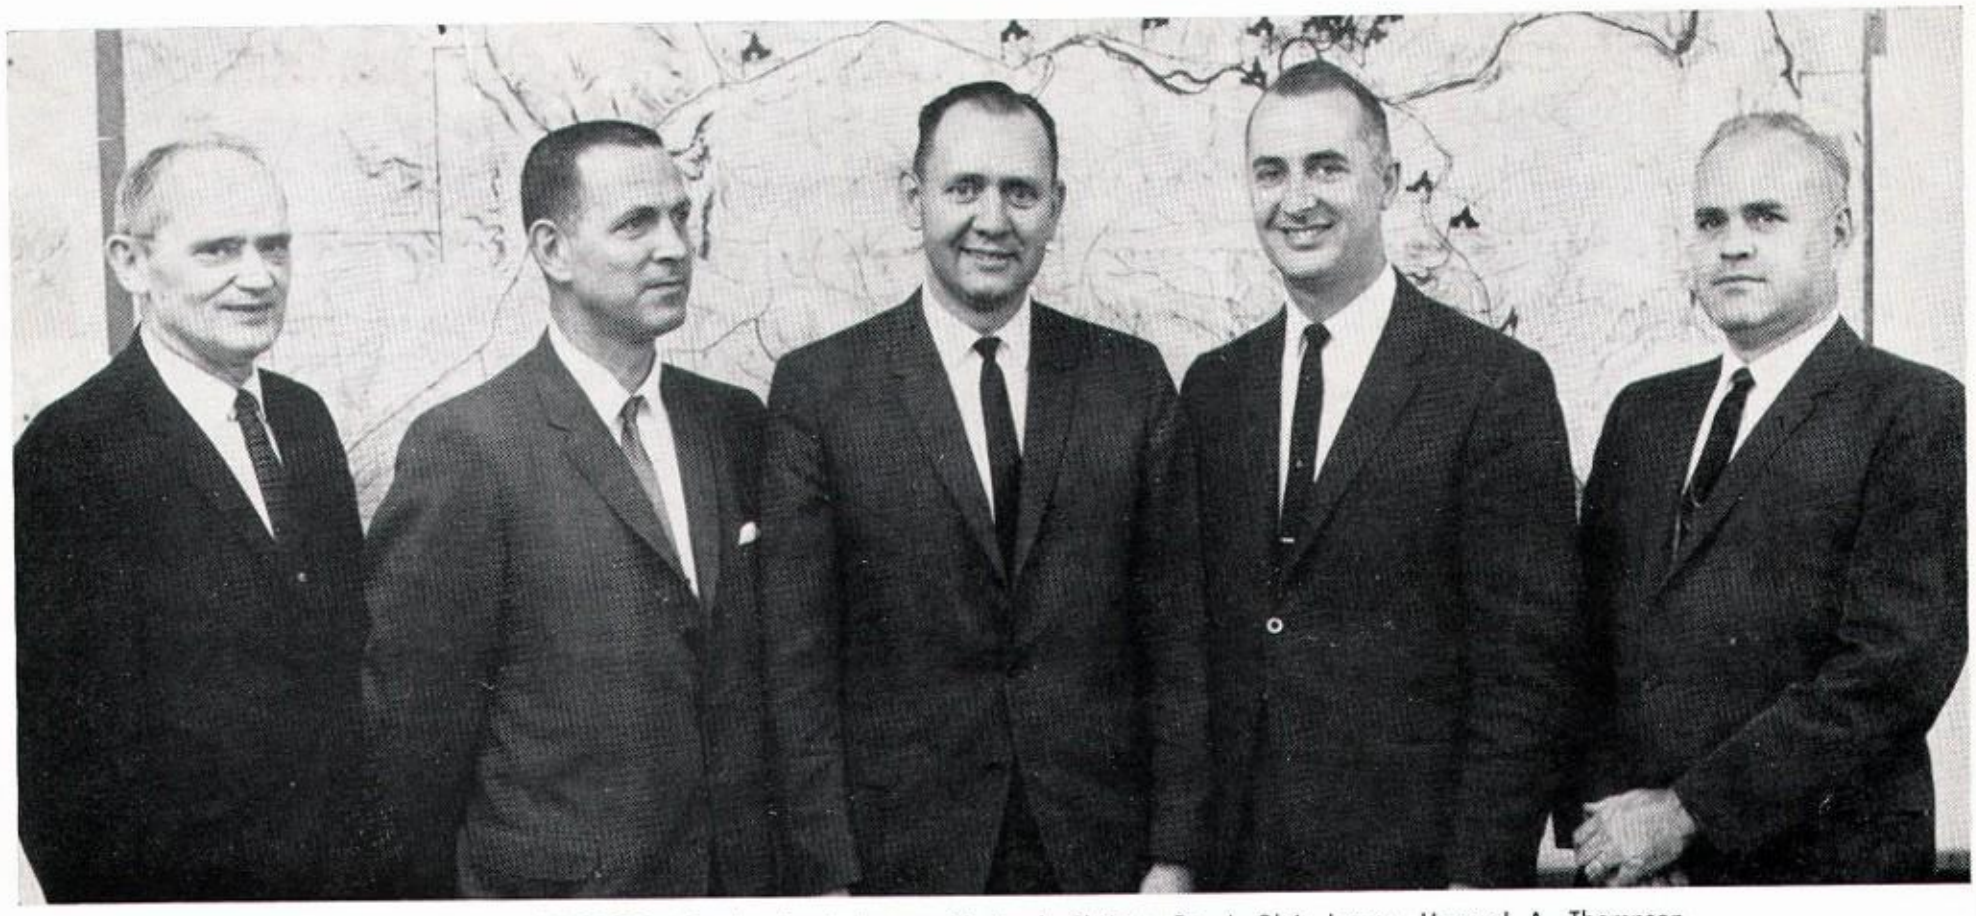
The class of 1968 dedicates this sixty-first edition of the Dragon to Mrs. Meredyth Coe, a distinguished teacher and an outstanding individual.

Throughout her teaching career Mrs. Coe has influenced graduates in various ways. She may be the one adult who finally impressed some "mop-headed teenager" with the importance of education. She may have been the guiding voice in the selection of a college or career. Mrs. Coe has instilled in many her ardent love for the English language and its literature. Her broad knowledge and excellent qualifications have enabled her to present a program which is both challenging and stimulating to the student. Profiting greatly from her teaching, students have gone on to college with high aspirations, well prepared to reach new heights.

Mrs. Coe has valued highly the worth of the individual and has concerned herself with the personal as well as the academic development of each student. Her warm manner and sincere interest in people have served to strengthen her relations with students and teachers alike.

Because she has consistently approached her work with enthusiasm and devotion, we present this edition of the Dragon, along with our respect and admiration, to Mrs. Coe.

MRS. MEREDYTH COE



SCHOOL BOARD DIRECTORS: Charles R. Anderson, C. Frank Christy, Dr. J. Blair Logan, Howard A. Thompson, Harold A. Landin.

Dr. Barratt addresses the Class of 1968.

Congratulations. The acquistion of your diploma, symbolizing the completion of your public school education, is a convenient bench mark from which will be measured many of the future accomplishments of you and your classmates. The years you have spent under the guidance of teachers and administrators, hopefully, will provide the base upon which you may build a successful and satisfying life. Lessons learned in the classroom and laboratory; on athletic fields; in musical, dramatic, publication, and other activities, give you a reasonable expectation of success in life. To insure such success you will need to continue your own education throughout the years ahead. It is the belief and hope of your parents, the School Board and Staff, and the public who support them that these years in our schools have enabled you to gain the knowledge, attitudes, and skills necessary for conquering the challenges of life. Go forth with our best wishes for success.

MR. CHARLES BECK ..... Secretary

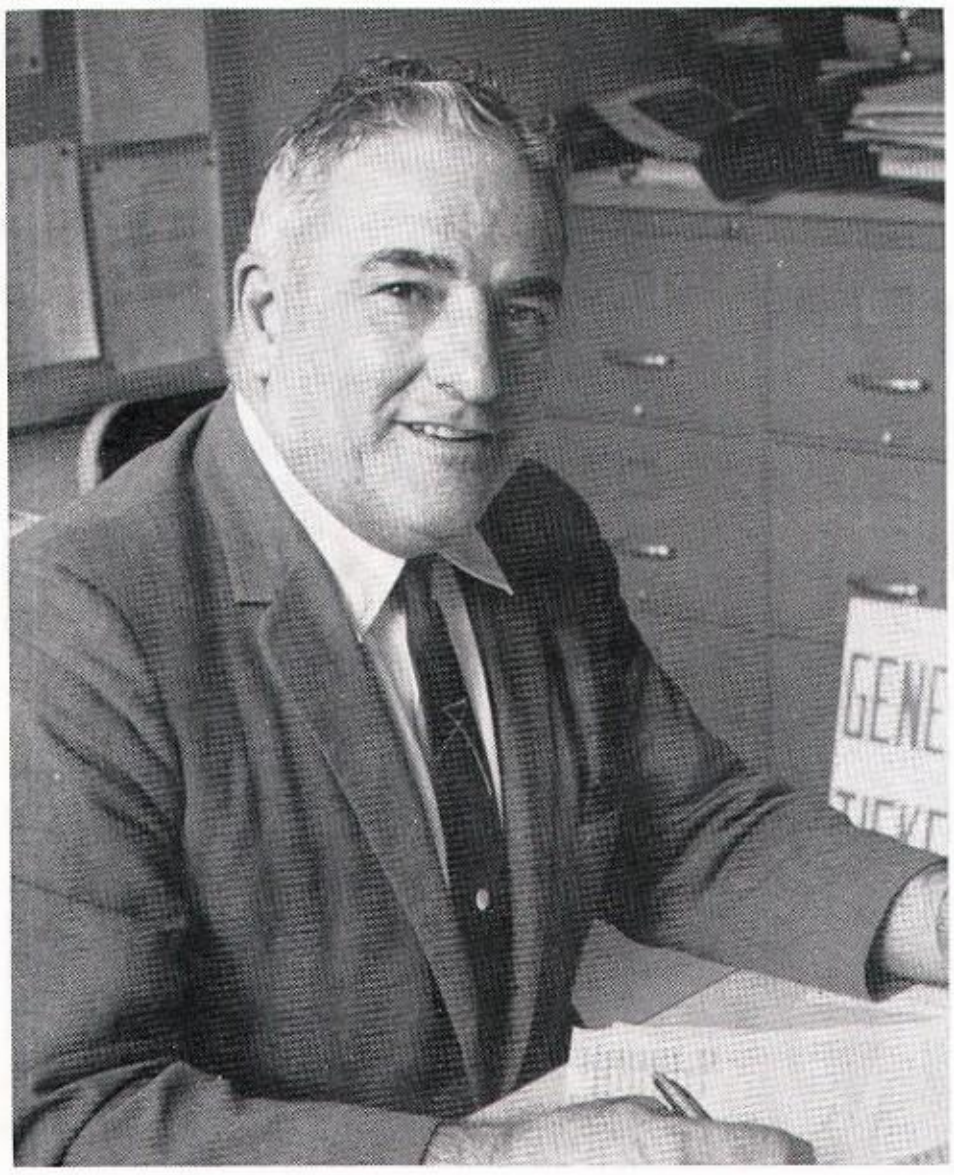
MR. JOHN D. HAGGERTY ..... Treasurer

MR. ROBERT LUNDBERG ..... Asst. Secretary-Treasurer

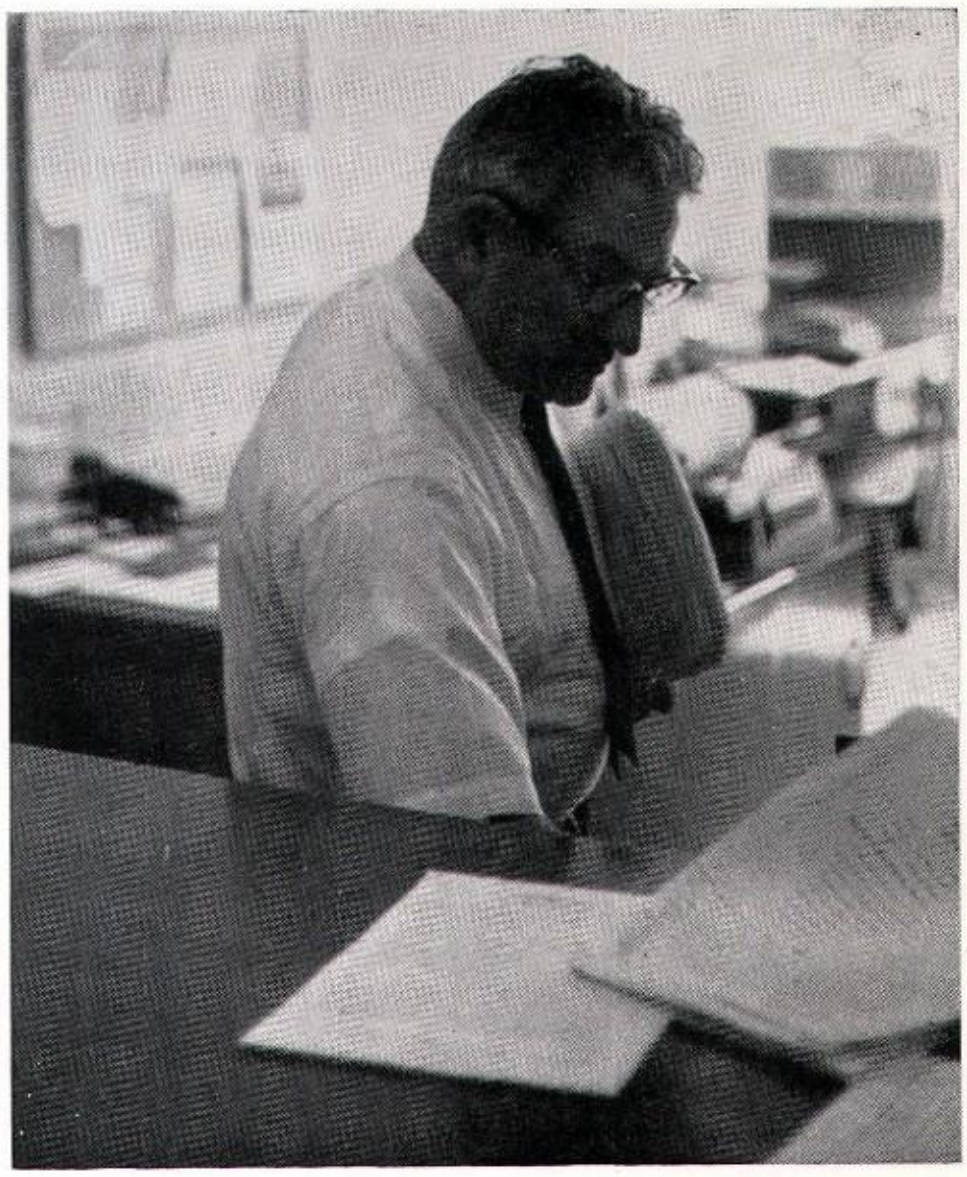
The Warren County School Board is responsible for the passage of all legislation relating to the school district. Composed of nine men from all parts of the county, the members are elected by the people of Warren County. At its monthly meetings the School Board discusses the reports of the various committees which deal with specific problems.

Headed by Mr. Melvin Keller, president, and Dr. Thomas Barratt, executive officer, the Board has approved legislation necessary for the advancement of the school district. Dealing with such areas as playgrounds, athletics, buildings and grounds, transportation, text books, finance, and teachers, the committees of each area convene between the monthly meetings for a more thorough evaluation and study of these problems. They then present their discoveries and suggestions to the Board at the monthly meeting.

The members of the Board have discussed and studied the needs of the school system and have to the best of their ability adopted means of solving them. Their legislation has provided the means for the improvement and progression of the Warren County School District.



The door to Mr. Passaro's office is always open to students and faculty alike.



"It's not that I'm tired of school, it's just the principle of the thing."

Mr. Passaro receives students' ideas with enthusiasm.

As principal of Warren Area High School, Mr. Joseph V. Passaro faces many difficult tasks each day. In his decisions, he has always been fair, considering the needs of the minority as well as the majority. As coordinator of all school activities, Mr. Passaro encourages the development of individual interests. To increase student-faculty communication, he explains any changes in school policy. He welcomes new ideas with enthusiasm, encouraging originality and imagination among students. With his keen sense of humor and genuine interest in each individual, Mr. Passaro lends a personal touch to the administration.

Assisting Mr. Passaro are Mr. Carlton Kurz and Mr. William Miller. Mr. Kurz manages all supplies and personnel for the school. Discipline and student relations are the tasks which face Mr. Miller. These men have extended their services to include not only the school but also the community. Along with Mr. Passaro, these men must insure the smooth operation of our school.

The guidance office smooths the wrinkles of computer scheduling.

Besides her regular work, Mrs. Sorenson always finds time to help students.

During the high school years students must give serious thought to future plans. While in school, they have various academic problems that require the advice of an experienced counselor.

A valuable part of our school, the Guidance Office, serves students by assisting them with their academic needs of the present and discussing with them their plans for the future. Utilizing the student's abilities and interests, the counselors advise students in the selection of colleges, careers, technical schools, and other appropriate fields.

This year Mr. Ronald Isackson has served the Senior class, Miss Jean Steele, the Junior class, and Mr. Warren Carr, the Sophomore class. In addition to its personal counselling, the Guidance Office has provided many booklets concerning vocations and schools of higher education and has planned both a career discussion program and visits from college representatives.

The many services of the Guidance Office have enabled students to make wise decisions which will contribute to their future success.

Librarian

The library affords a quiet work place with reference books close at hand for Steve Kaiser.

The library, with approximately 12,000 volumes, has served students and teachers throughout the school year. Mrs. Brunke, head librarian, and her assistants, Mrs. Wallo and Mrs. Andersen, have run the library smoothly and efficiently. The school has purchased a variety of filmstrips, tapes, and recordings, enlarging the library's supply of audio-visual aids. Students searching for reference materials, magazines, newspapers, or "a short novel for next period's book report" have made the library a busy place.

Mrs. Andersen continually strives to make use of the library easier and more enjoyable.

A green library slip opens doors to enrichment.

Einer Anderson

The custodians are men of action when assisting school projects.

To the custodial and cafeteria staffs, we extend special appreciation and recognition for the help they have given us. Their unselfish efforts to help school organizations with various activities have made student life that much more enjoyable. The cafeteria staff has well-balanced and appetizing meals for school lunches as well as for club banquets. The janitors have kept the school clean and comfortable, and to them we owe a special thanks for their help on the proms. Without these people students would not enjoy the many extra-curricular activities which they have taken for granted. To them we express our deepest gratitude for their faithful service.

"Good morning, world!"

"We executives always carry our lunches in our briefcases."

"Rickety rak, rickety rak, my socks are gold and black."

Camera-shy Miss Bevevino is caught in the act of teaching English.

A casual class makes for a more interesting discussion.

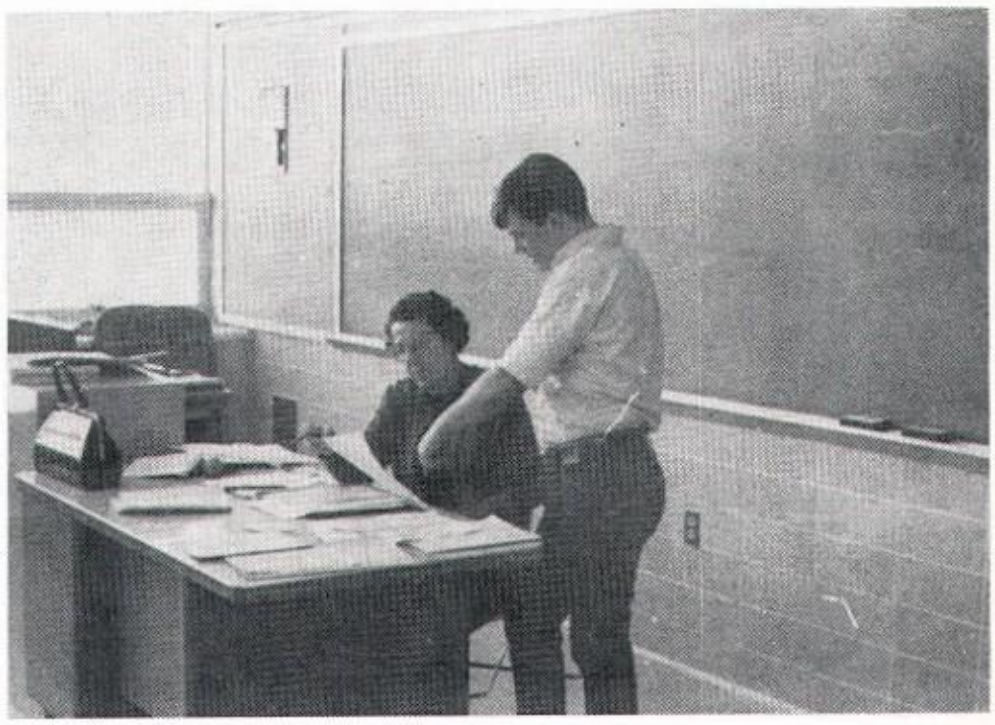
English students strive to become adept in their native tongue.

English provides the means for clear and effective self expression. Through the efforts of the English Department, students gain a greater understanding of grammar, writing techniques, and literature and are encouraged to think and to write creatively.

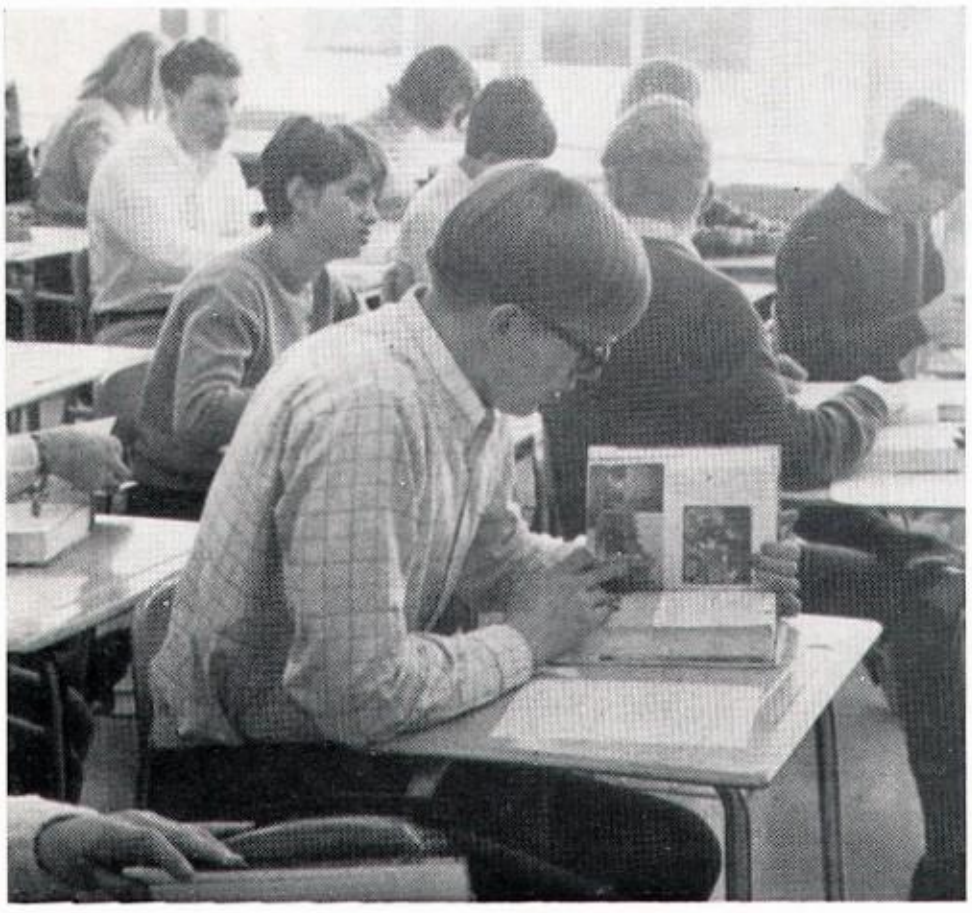
Short stories, novels, plays, and poetry widen students' appreciation of thoughts, words, and values. In the sophomore year students study literature from all parts of the world; juniors study American literature; and seniors English literature. Especially talented students are given an opportunity to furthur develop their abilities and interests through honors and advanced placement courses. Dramatics and speech classes enable a student to express himself through speaking and acting.

In high school English, students improve their basic skills of expression and communication which are so vital in all of life's endeavors.

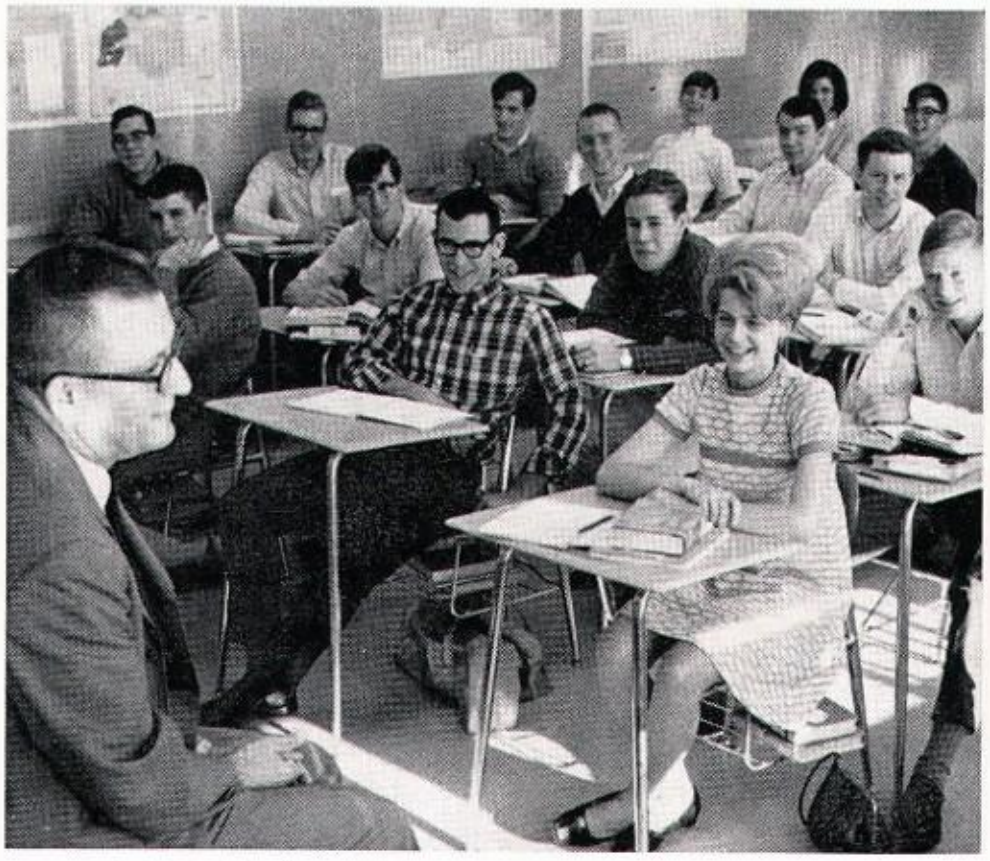
John Parks questions Miss Martin about his work in speech class.



One facet of Senior English is the study of Chaucer.



By reading aloud, Mrs. Backstrom helps her students in their interpretation of literature.



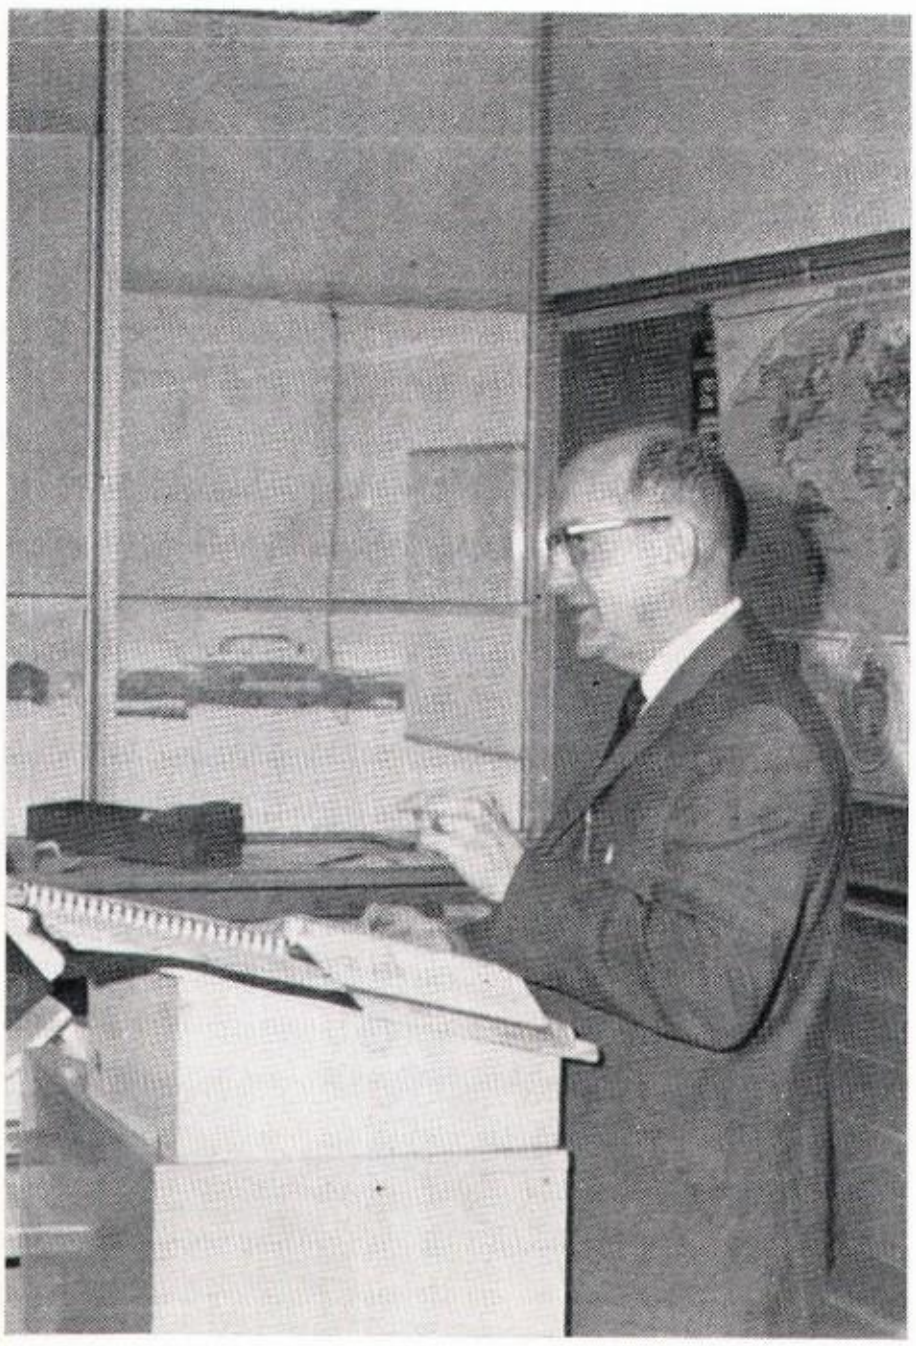
In P. O. D. Class Mr. Jewell discusses some of his own problems.

As the day draws to a close, Mrs. Donaldson tries to keep minds from wandering.

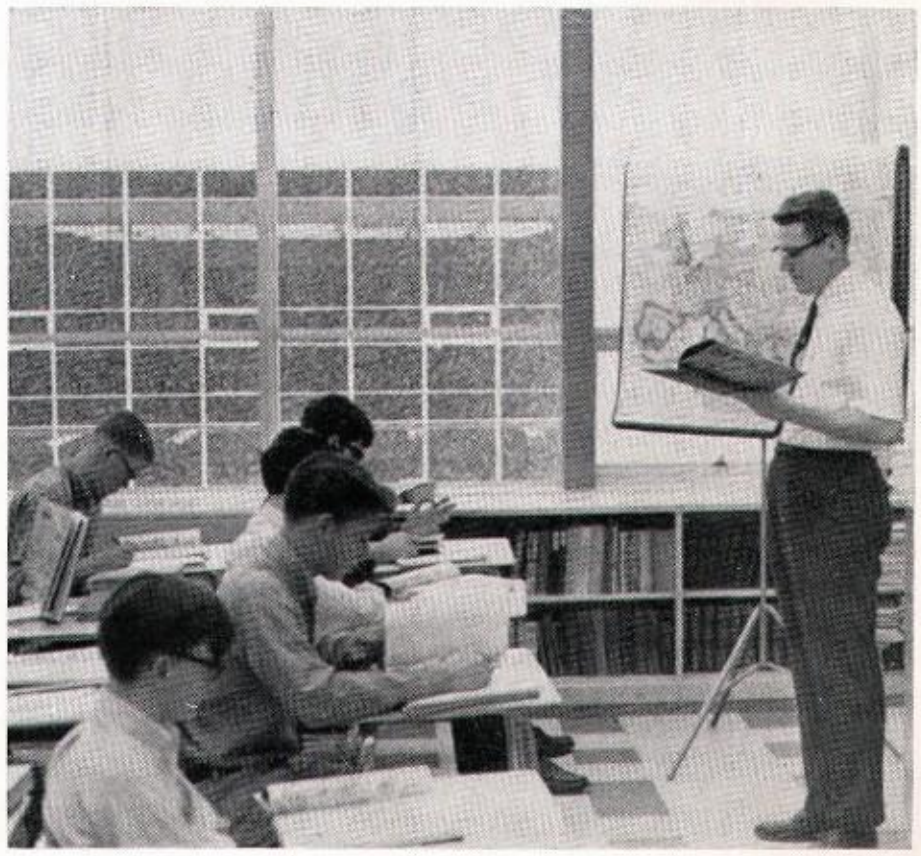
In history we stumble upon current events and those of yesteryear.

The social studies department offers a variety of courses at the high school. As sophomores, students study the varying cultures of man throughout the world. Juniors pursue a more specific field of study in American history. A wider range of choice is available to seniors; economics and sociology, problems of democracy, and world regional geography are among the possibilities. For those with special interests or abilities in history, the school offers advanced placement and honors courses. Through the study of history and the world, students gain a better understanding of people and their world.

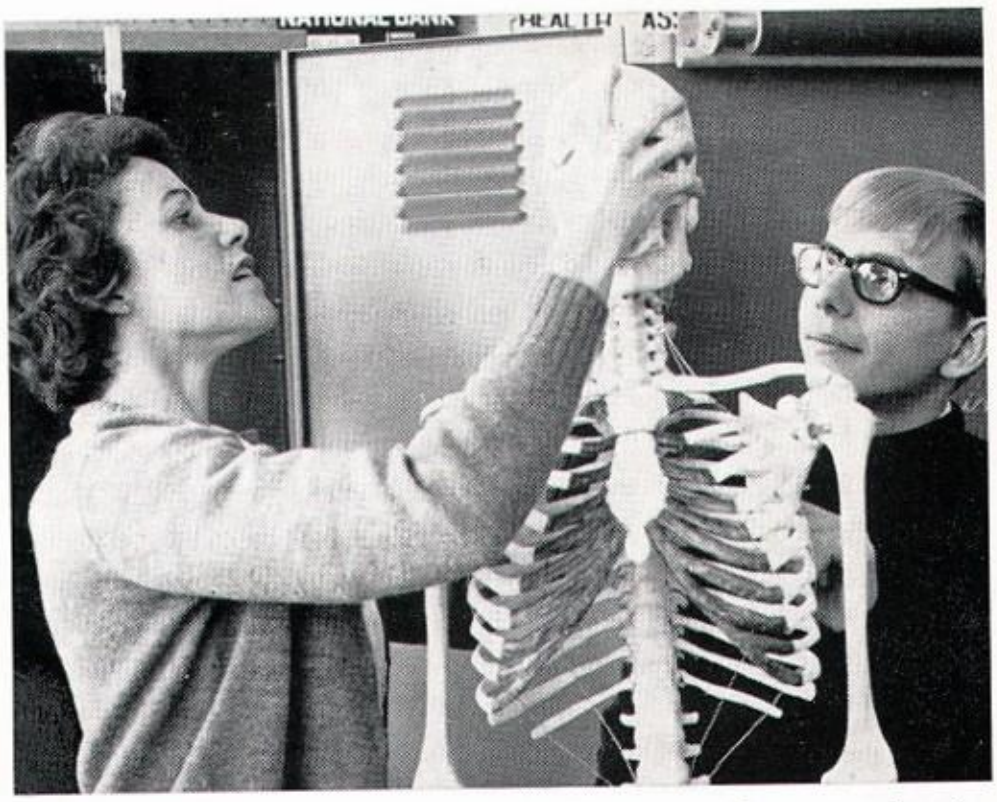
Mr. Oeslager urges his students to try just a little bit harder.



Mr. Hinderliter directs honors students in the study of ancient civilizations.



Things are looking up in physics for Kathy Muczynski and Heidi Ruhlman.

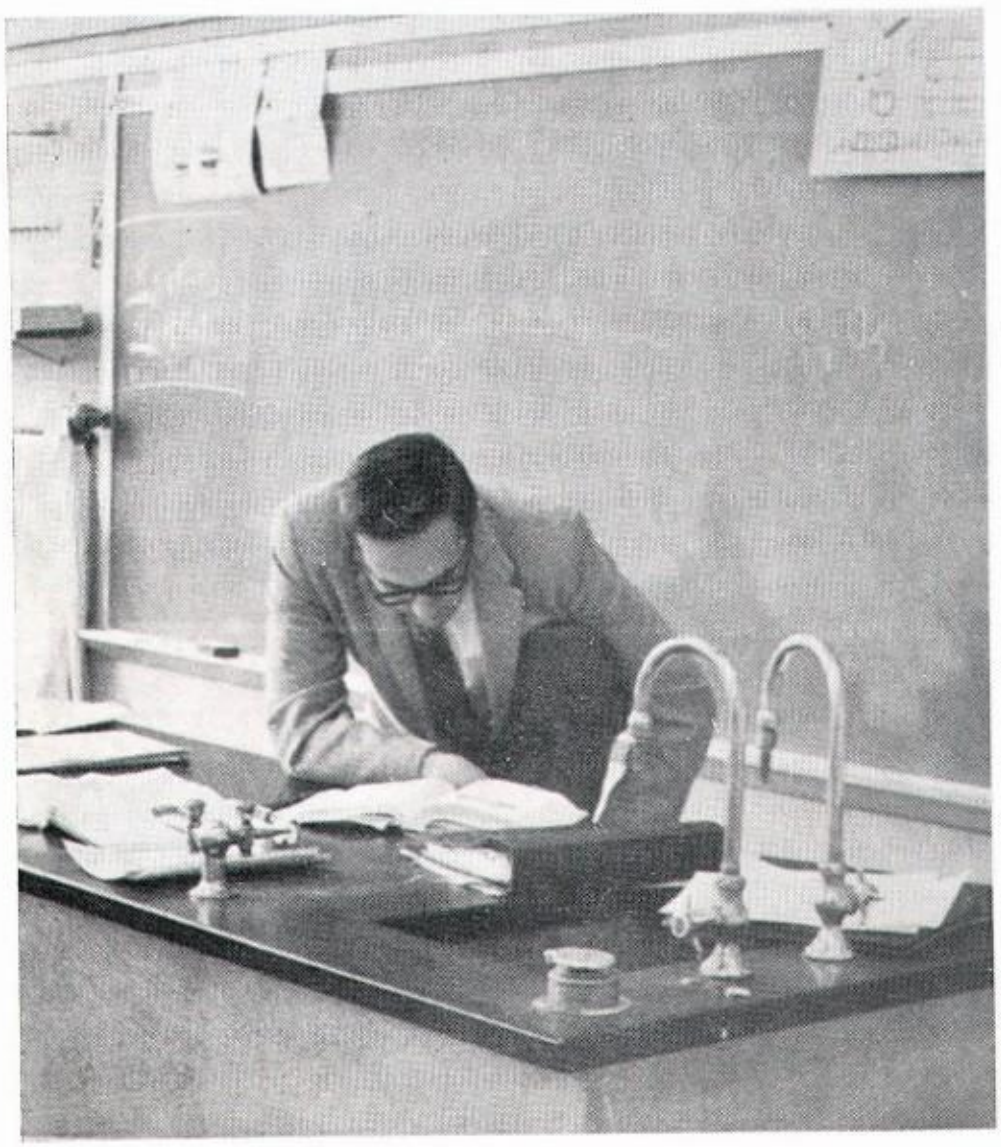


Mrs. Alcorn explains to Terry Nelson that "it screws on here somewhere."

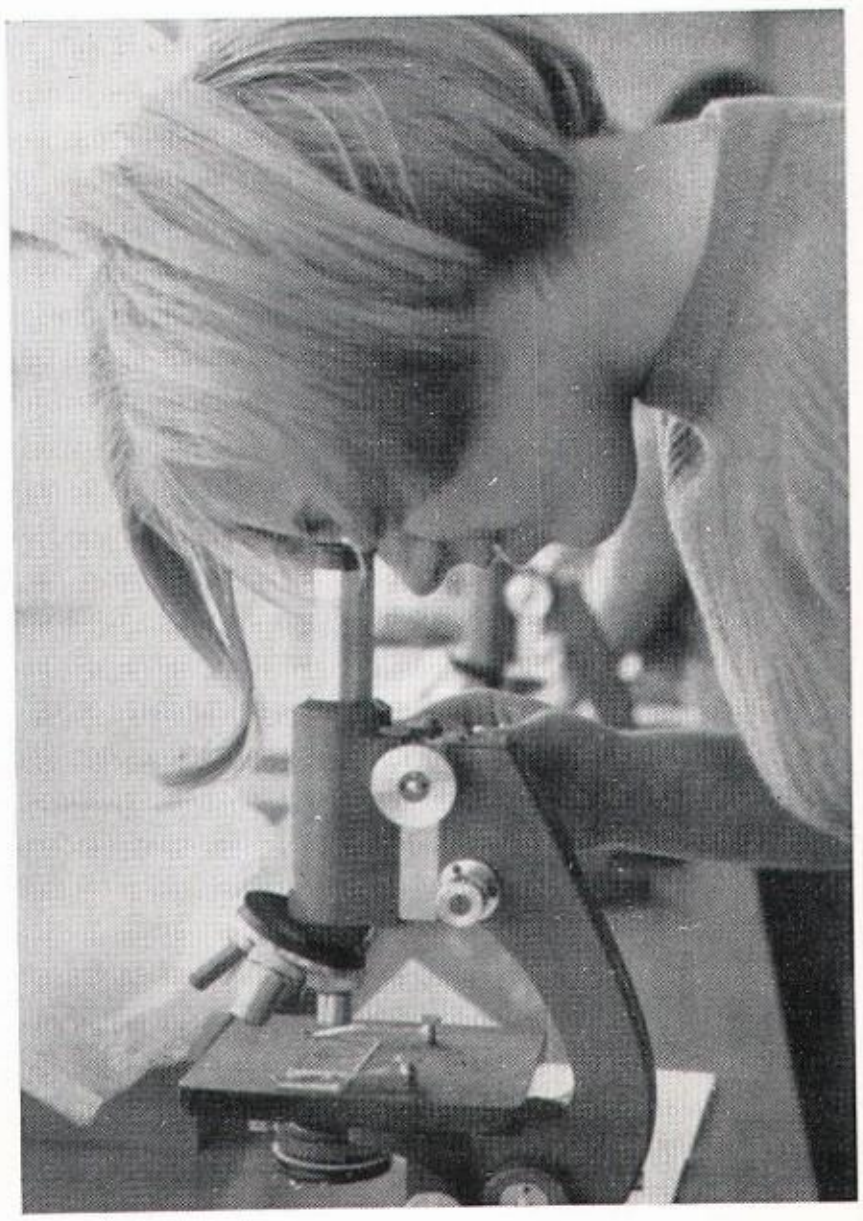
The Science Department offers a wide variety of courses designed to promote interest and understanding in the biological and physical sciences. The study of biology, chemistry, physics, chem study, B. S. C. S., microbiology, and anatomy gives students a sound background in scientific principles. Science survey presents a general view of science, and conservation provides practical knowledge about outdoor life. Each student, selecting courses to meet his needs and interests, gains insight into the basic forces of the universe.

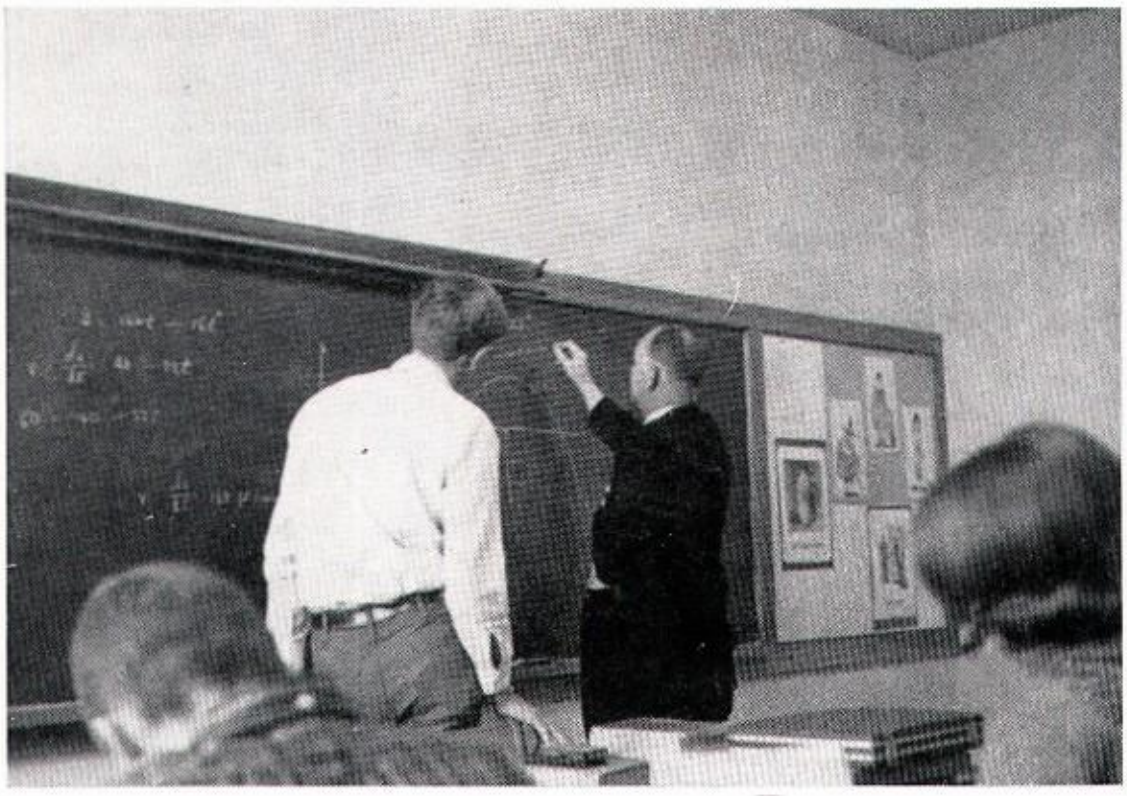
The sciences divulge the composition of the birds and the bees.

You learn something new every day!



Sue Matthews discovers the exciting world of spirogyra.





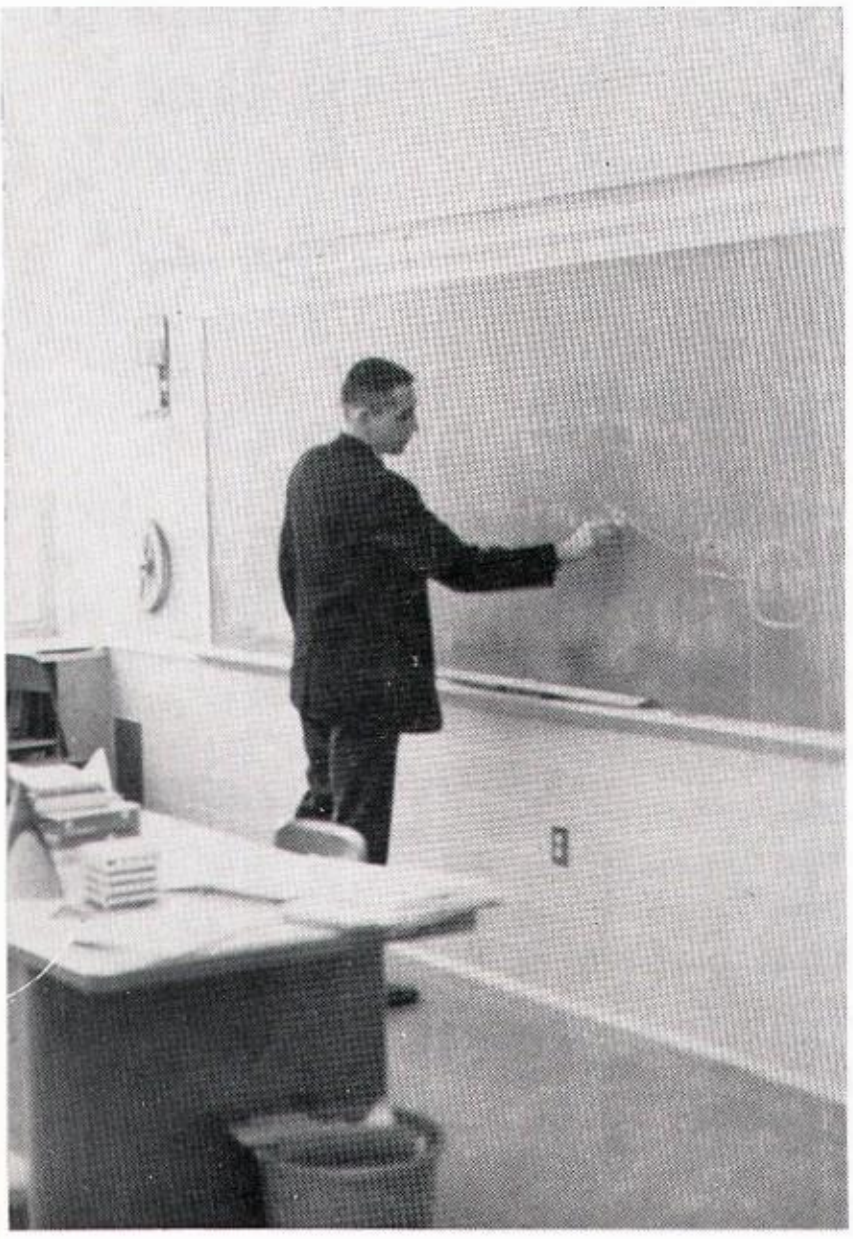
It's really very simple if you understand it.

Mathematics develops and sharpens a student's ability to reason clearly and logically. Courses in algebra, geometry, trigonometry, and calculus give students an understanding of mathematical concepts necessary for higher mathematics. Students not wishing to specialize may take general or business mathematics which can be applied in everyday life. Providing stimulation for the progression of the thought processes as well as practical knowledge, the Mathematics Department is a valuable part of our school.

Mr. Fehlman becomes very engrossed when teaching math.

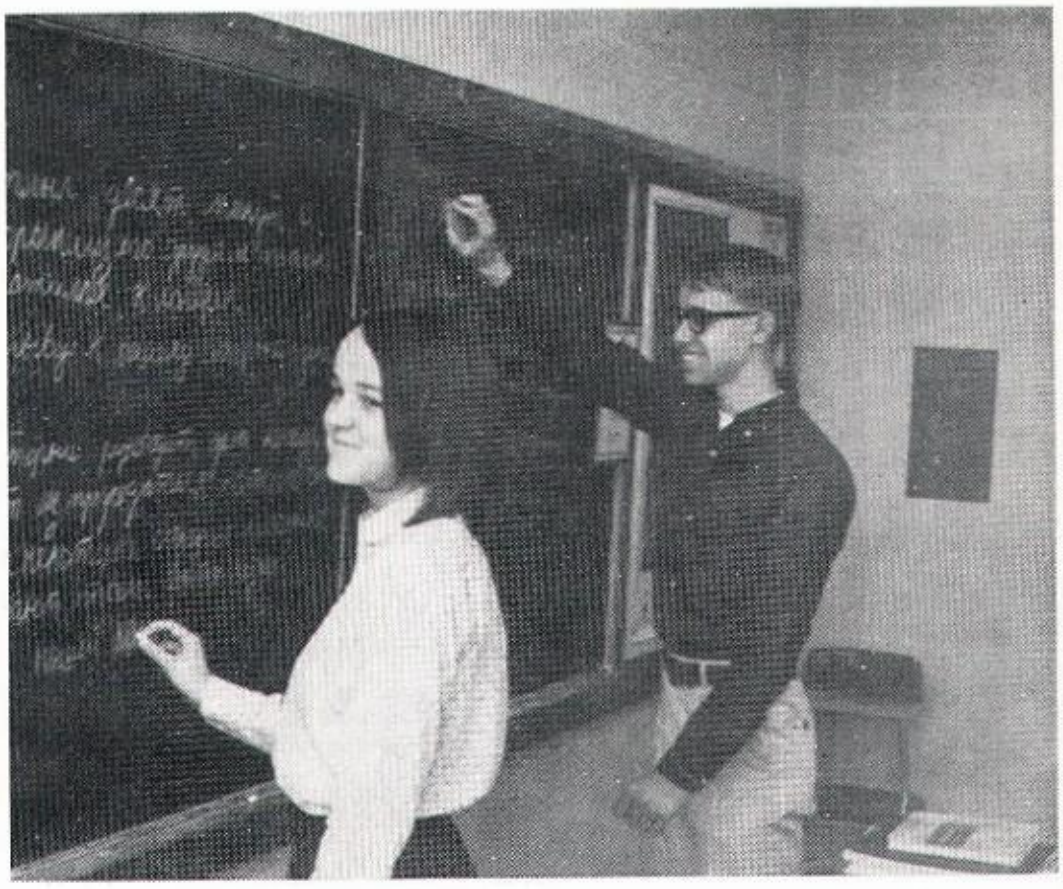
In class we apply the abstract and practical theorems of math.

The haze of confusion begins to lift as Mr. Grimm explains the problem.



Mrs. Swick gives a helping hand to a puzzled algebra student.

Mrs. Hernandez instructs her Spanish classes by giving them a personal touch.



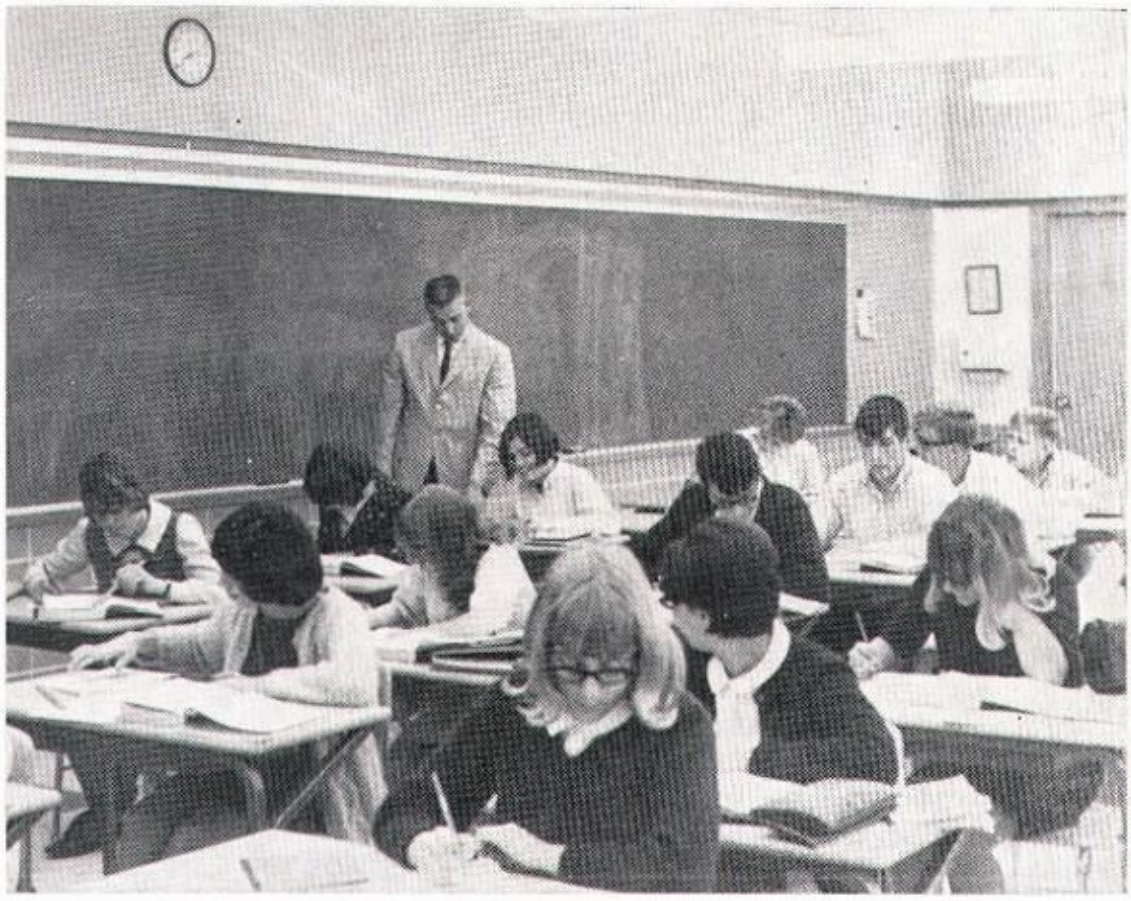
Rachel Check and Tom Lauffenburger are amused by their Russian.

Those with a yen for the unusual study foreign languages.

Today, the value of language is emphasized more than ever before. Many colleges require as many as three or four years of a language for admission. Large corporations offer positions in foreign countries to those fluent in two or more languages. To meet this growing need, Warren Area High School offers four years of French, German, and Latin and three years of Russian and Spanish. Besides instruction in grammar and conversation, the student acquires a knowledge of literature and culture.

By use of elaborate drawings on the board, Mr. Dare is able to get his point across.

French students become acquainted with the French culture as well as language by reading French magazines.



Mr. Patterson points out something amusing in bookkeeping.

Nancy Rush finds that learning the keyboard isn't so ridiculous in the long run.

In response to a voice, students scribble strange-looking lines across a page. There is a steady tapping as students pound on the keys of their typewriters.

Shorthand and typing are but two of the subjects offered by the business department. Students preparing for a future in the business world acquire a broad knowledge through the variety of courses offered. Business math, bookkeeping, business English, and business law provide a sound basis for the businessmen and women of tomorrow. For those entering other fields, these courses broaden their interests and prepare them for their role as citizens of a world financially dependent on business.

The world of high finance is opened for business students.

Mrs. Summers observes the style of her typing students.

Becky Gleason, Mark Campbell, Manager Diann Thayer, Shirley Chapel, Sue Black, June Jackson, and Toni Johnson inspect the fabrics at Penney's.

Besides his academic subjects, the D. E. student holds down a job.

Distributive education provides a sound background and on-the-job training for seniors desiring a career in the business world. The day includes a schedule of classroom subjects ranging from English and history to a full slate of business subjects. When the students complete the classroom segment, they are well versed in the values of display and advertising and the mechanics of merchandising and retail mathematics. In the afternoon this knowledge is supplemented with employment in a local business establishment. Observation of proper sales techniques and retail management will help the students in finding a useful niche in business. Because their education takes place in the store as well as in the classroom, employers, with the teacher, grade the students on their cooperation as salesmen. The combination of earning money while acquiring an education in their life work appeals to future businessmen.

Gary Hubbard, James Samuelson, Richard Smith, Joseph Edwards, Denny Rogers, and William Young display the shirts they must now unpack.

Having just meticulously arranged a counter, Fred Wood, Daniel Thoms, Joe Salapek, James Schumann, John Bailey, and Thomas Emick proudly display their work.

Mr. Warren E. Miller and Mark R. Campbell observe the sales technique of Jeff Munksgard, Fred Lucks, Jerry Bancroft, and Larry Gertsch.

Experience and guidance insure acceptance in the business world.

Mark Campbell, manager, instructs Sharon McGraw, Marsha Bines, Cathy Nielson, Linda Madonia, Rodney Seymour, and Dennis Bullock on the methods of catalog ordering at Penney's.

William Leonard, Shannon Littlefield, Diane Anderson, and Linda Knepp are joined by Mr. Miller while familiarizing themselves with the merchandise in the men's clothing department.

Miss Chase teaches students that homemaking is more than washing dishes and scrubbing floors.

Mrs. Bryan makes sure that Patti Suppa and Barb Check know how to "knit two, pearl one."

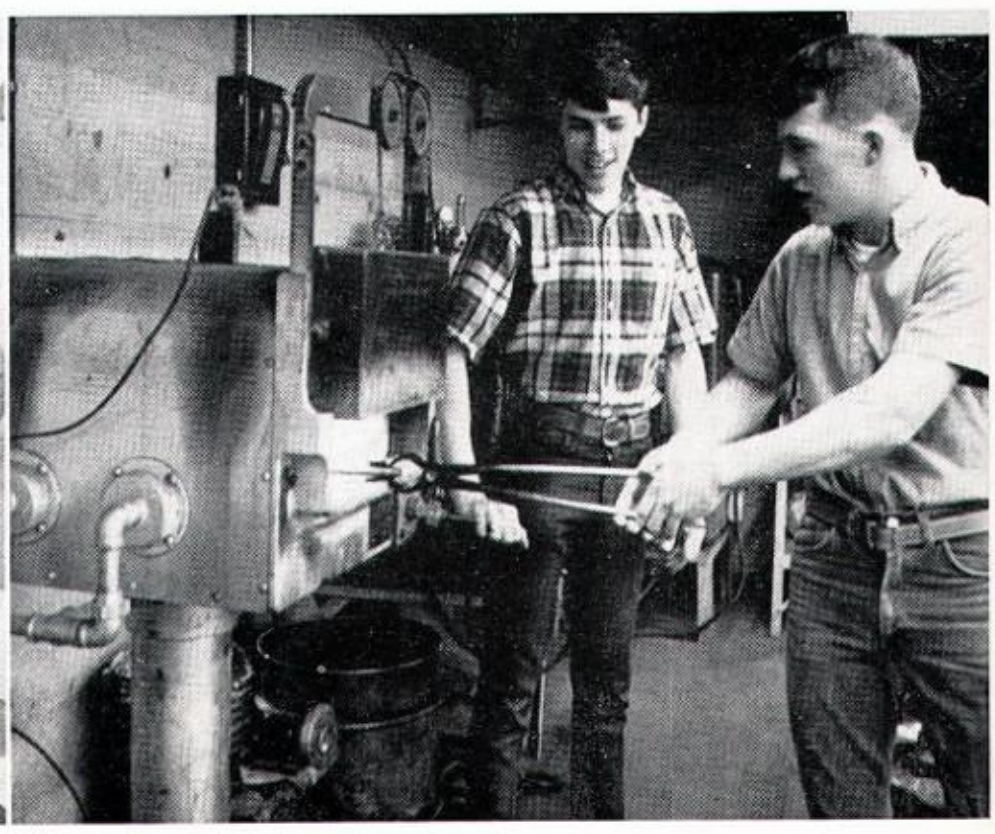
In homemaking and shop students choose fields of specialization.

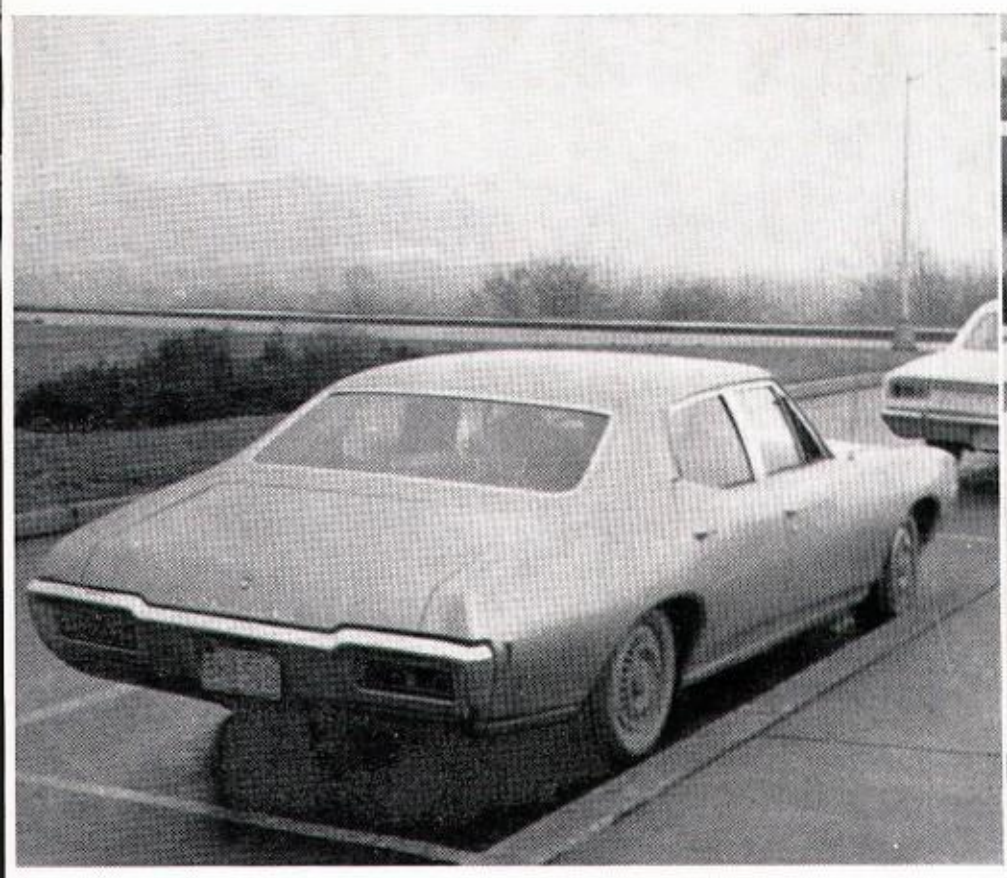
Homemaking enables a student to prepare herself for the years ahead. Studying all aspects of family living, girls perfect their present homemaking abilities and develop new ones. Cooking, sewing, nutrition, knitting, and family relationships constitute a program a girl may choose according to her interests. These skills provide the future homemaker with the necessary skills to run her future family successfully.

In shop, boys work diligently on anything from mechanical drawing to the construction of attractive cedar chests and gun racks. Three types of shop: wood shop, electrical shop, and metal shop enable a boy to choose a specific field of specialization. Wood shop includes making all types of furniture; metal shop includes welding and operation of machines similar to those in industry; while electrical shop takes up electronics and other related fields. Advanced courses deal more with theory. The boys gain practical experience for the future.

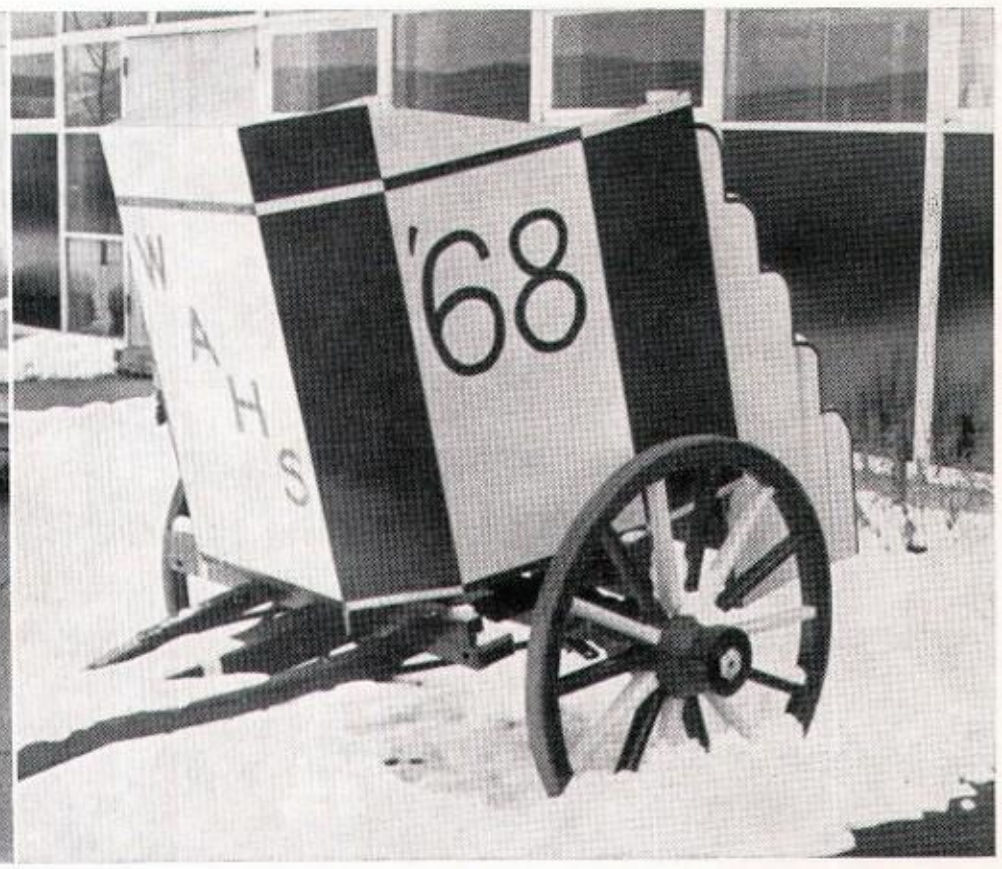
Garry Arbogast, Steve Kelly, and John Wolfe diligently work on their creations in wood shop.

Joe McCoy uses the forging furnace in metal shop as Mike Lundberg looks on.





Behind the wheel training is a breeze in sleek new cars.



The class of 1968 chariot typifies the vehicles of olden days.

Caesar never had it so good!

Driver education, applied properly, plays a major role in accident reduction. Through various classroom techniques, students gain a new realization of their responsibilities behind the wheel. Newspaper clippings and movies increase students' awareness of their obligations to themselves and others. Learning of accident causes, car care, natural and man-made laws, students become thoroughly acquainted with all aspects of car care and operation. In addition to classroom instruction students gain actual experience in driving a car under the guidance of Mr. Massa and Mr. Shantz. Students are encouraged to drive defensively and to watch carefully the actions and intentions of other drivers. The understanding and experience gained through driver education are important factors in creating safe and courteous drivers.

Larry Maxwell peers under the hood of the car as Mr. Shantz describes what's under there.

A 1968 Pontiac Tempest is the newest addition to the W. A. H. S. Driver Education department.

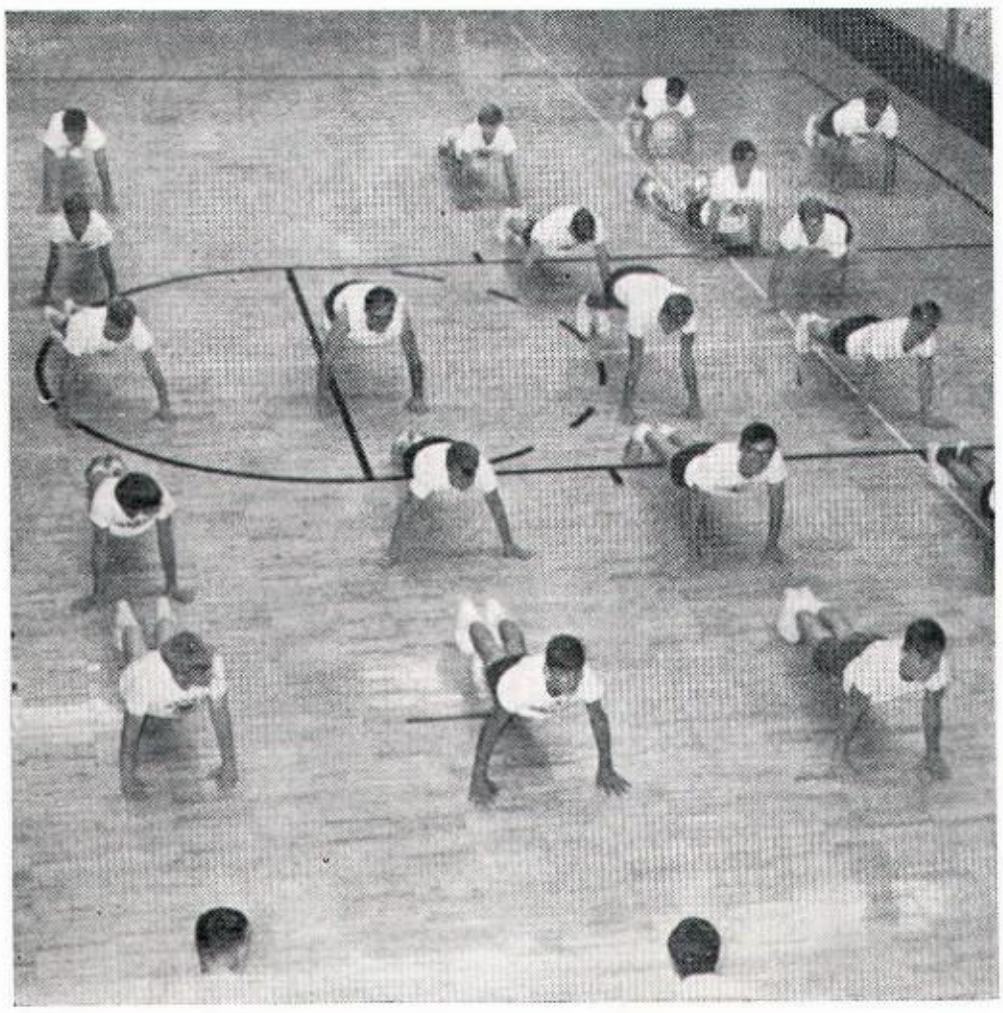
A typical girls' gym class with a flurry of activity!

Girls find that learning those gym skills isn't so hard after all.

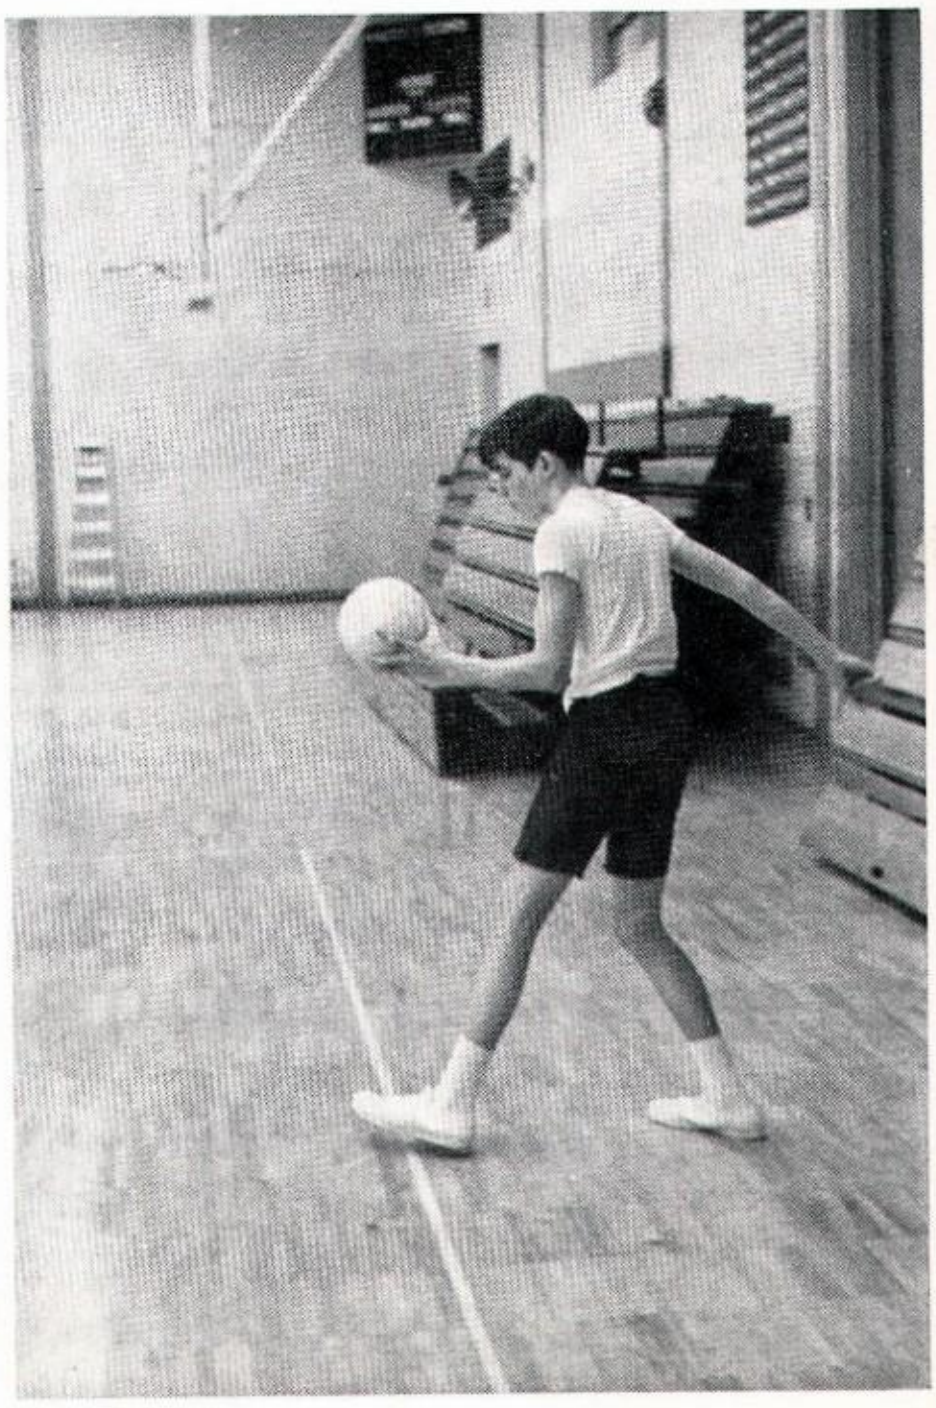
Physical fitness tests cause competition and exhaution in gym.

Physical fitness tests, skills, and games left students marvelling at newly-discovered muscles. Under the direction of Mrs. Mary Creek, girls acquired balance and coordination. Boys worked out under the supervision of Mr. Shea and Mr. Beason. Gym classes provided the opportunity for students to develop new skills. Working on the equipment was especially popular with students. As a variation from the normal routine of studies, physical education was welcomed.

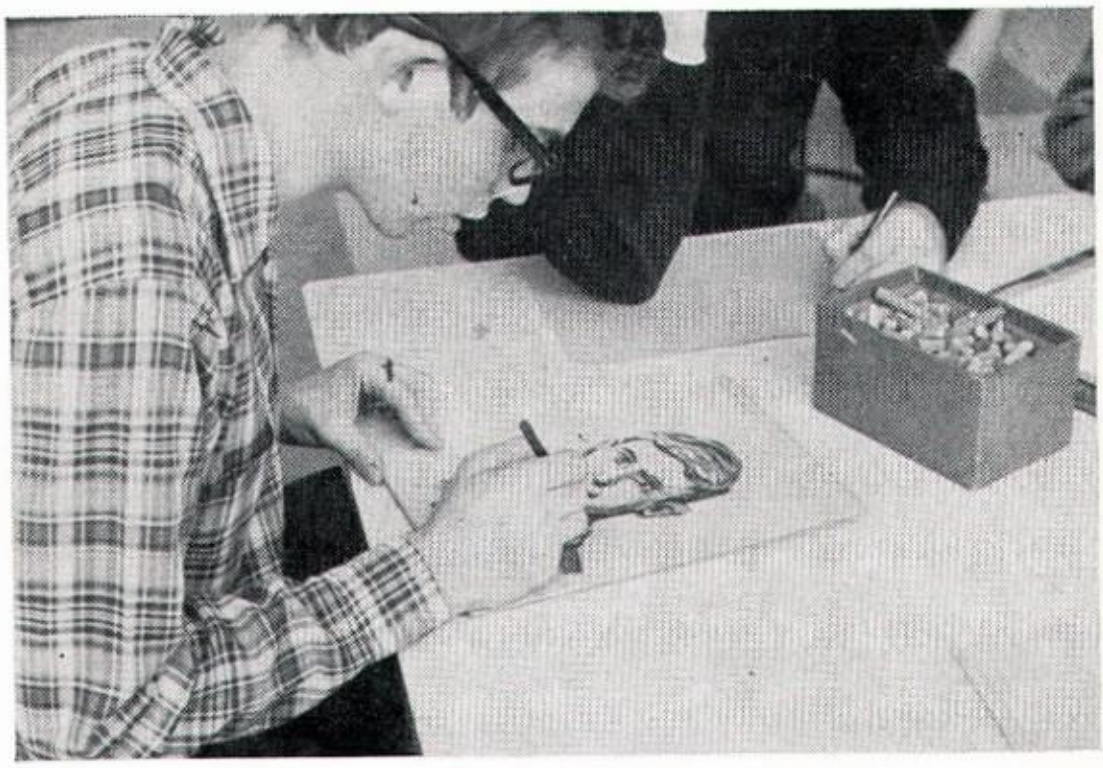
What form!



In gym class David Seceniquia learns the proper method of serving a volleyball.

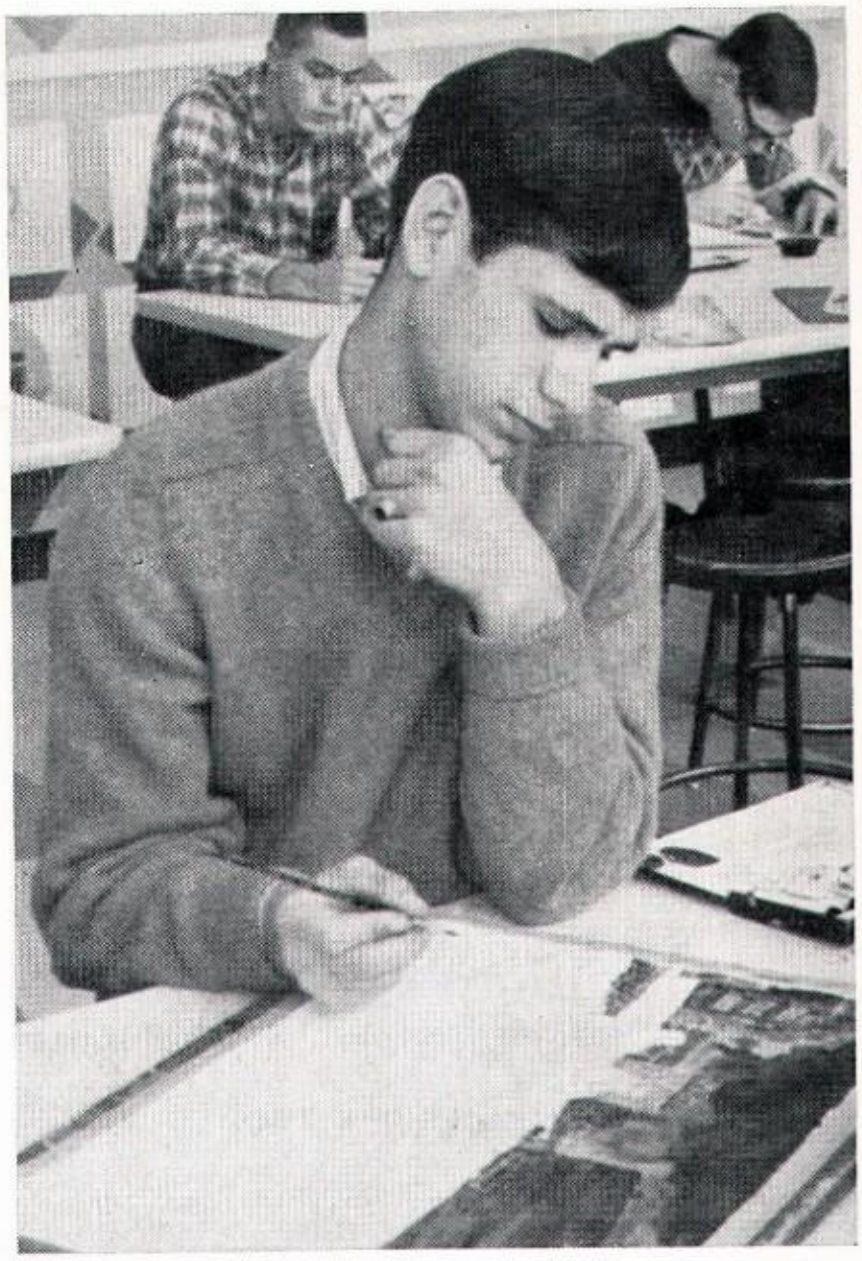


The Arts



A portrait takes form through the hand of Charles Place.

Art students express their creativity though a diversity of artistic techniques. Art I deals with the basic concepts that will be the foundation for later work. Proper lettering, perspective, and construction through various means enable art students to progress to Art II and Art III where most students work independently. Each student chooses a specific area of concentration from water color, oil painting, ceramics, and sculpture. In addition, art classes help with the scenery for school plays. The art program offers talented art students the opportunity to develop the creative abilities.



Intense concentration and artistic talent aid Chuck Musante in finishing a landscape.

Students release talents and frustrations during art class.

Diversified projects maintain a high level of interest in art classes.

Kay Schaffer uses her talents to sculpt a figure of clay.

The Girls' and Boys' Glee Clubs give students a solid foundation for a future in more advanced music. Students from all three classes are eligible for participation in these groups. Students gain a deeper appreciation of music and acquire added knowledge in musical skills. Under the direction of Mr. Carroll Fowler, the Glee Clubs perform in several assemblies and concerts each year.

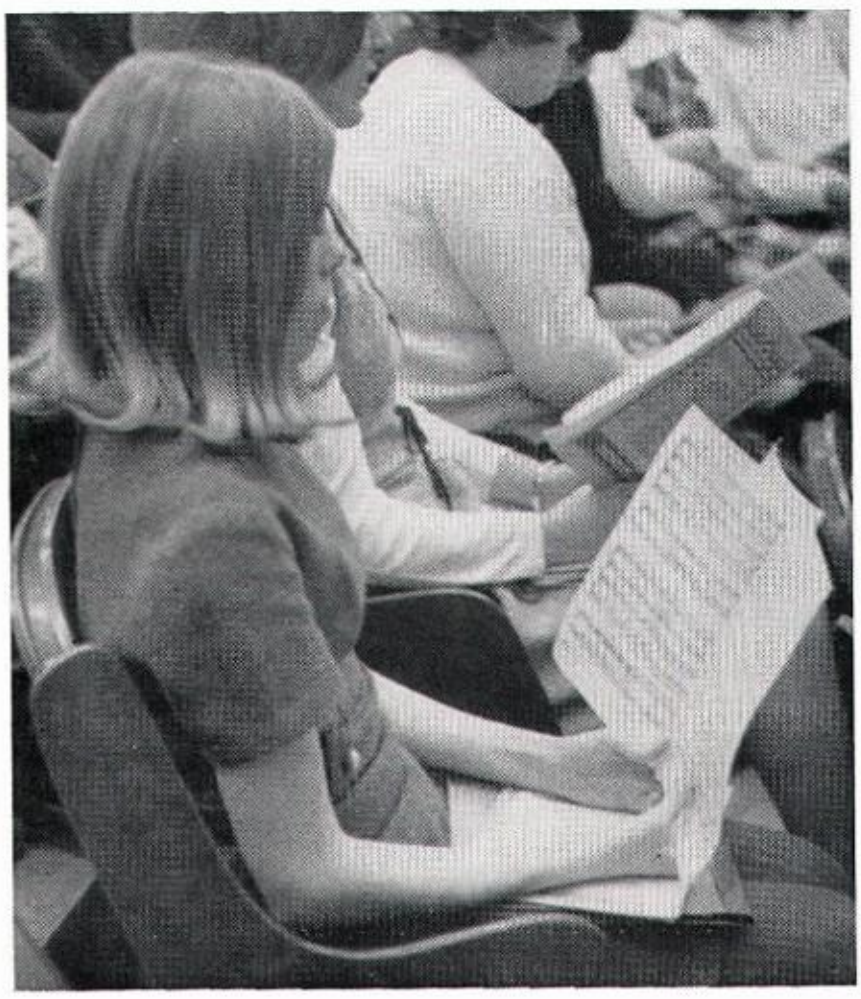
Both secular and sacred music comprise the A Cappella program.

Carol Mohney studies her music before she decides to sing.



The A Cappella Choir achieves a high degree of musical excellence through their assemblies and concerts throughout the year. The solemn reverence of sacred hymns as well as spirituals and secular music, and the lighter tone of pop and show music give their concerts a style pleasing to every ear. In addition to their in-school assemblies, they hold three concerts for the public. Their annual Christmas assembly is culminated by the magnificent reverence of the "Hallelujah Chorus" from the "Messiah" sung by the choir and music-minded students. The choir holds a winter and spring concert and sings for various community organizations such as the Rotary Club and Council of Church Women and at the State Hospital. Their participation in school and community affairs has been a musical highlight of this year.

Chosen from A Cappella and consisting of six girls and six boys, the Madrigal Singers comprise a talented and industrious group of singers. Throughout the year, Madrigals sing for various civic organizations and for many institutions during the holiday season. In addition, they sing in front of the A Cappella Choir. Their songs, mainly folk songs in counterpoint, enable the Madrigal singers to possess a style uniquely theirs.

Barb Salapek and Janice Klakamp join the rest of the choir in practice for the annual Spring Concert.

Twelve harmonious voices sing period music in Madrigal.

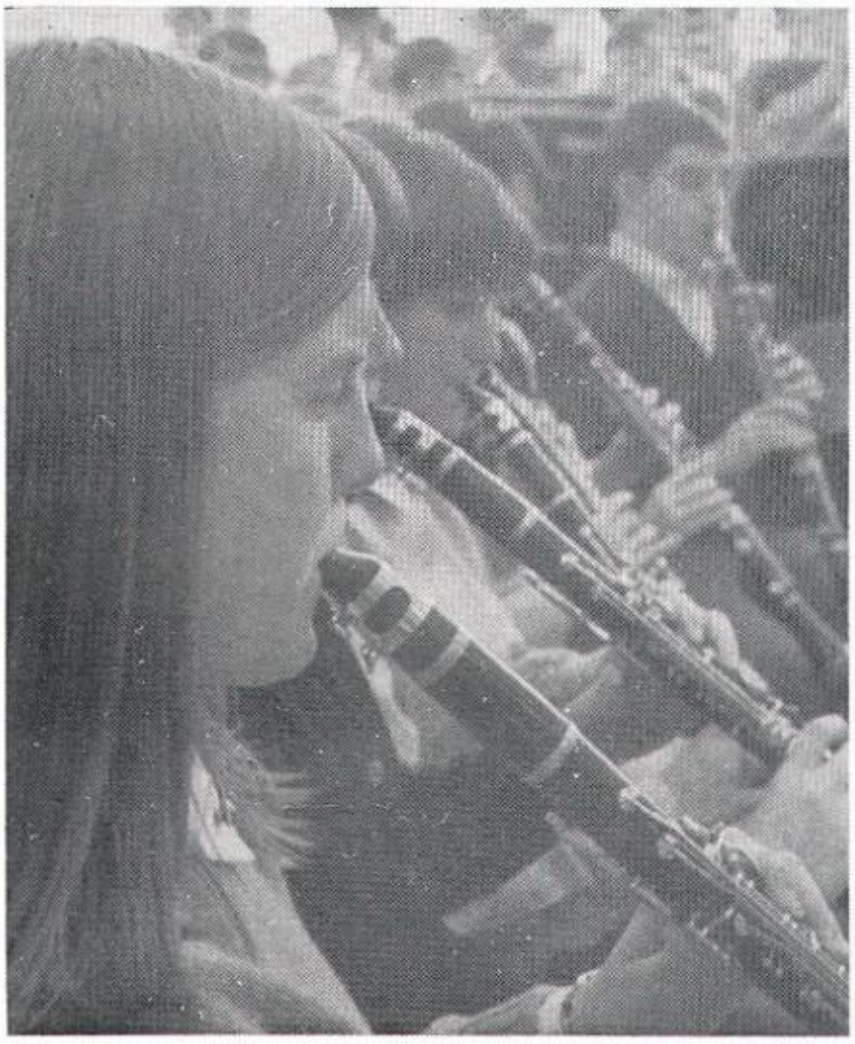
J. P. presents the million dollar, high stepping, go-go Dragon Band.

Marilyn Schirck leads a long line of other devoted clarinet players.



This year Mr. Passaro introduced the MILLION DOLLAR, HIGH STEPPING, GO-GO, DRAGON BAND. Their swinging halftime shows at football games introduced the familiar sounds of fabulous numbers including "Georgy Girl" and "Born Free." Their precision drills added a touch of vigor and enthusiasm to the football field. The Holiday Music Festival, Christmas Assembly, and spring concerts enabled them to present all types of musical arrangements. Participating in the Halloween, Christmas, and Memorial Day Parades, the band contributed to community affairs. This year Peggy Parsons and John Mahan have served as co-president and Clayton Breit as treasurer. The band's presence at football games, pep assemblies, and concerts throughout the year have added inspiration and pleasure to school life.

The Stage Band performs for many service organizations as well as for school activities. Special performances this year included the Junior Class play, a concert for State Hospital patients, and an appearance in Bea Canfield's program over WICU T. V. in Erie. The group also performed in several school concerts and assemblies, including in their repertoire popular music, jazz, and old standard dance tunes.

Part of the band's activities include marching out of doors, as shown by Tom Lauffenburger.

Waltz, pop, and jazz are all characteristic of the Stage Band.

The halftime shows and precision drills of the Color Guard, Majorettes, and Dragon Marching Band enlivened the scene and added a spark of life and spirit to pep assemblies and athletic events. Dean Backstrom served as Color Guard Sergeant, John Mahan as Drum Major, and Miss Thompson as director of the Majorettes. The dedication of these groups to Warren Area High School was evident in their fine performances throughout the year.

This year twenty-nine Warren Area High School students of outstanding musical ability participated in either District Band, District Orchestra, or District Chorus. Recommended by their music instructor and chosen by application, these students are to be commended for their perseverance and fine musical achievement.

Only the very best from the music department travel to Districts.

The String and Brass Ensembles complement the music department.

From the Orchestra two special groups of students are chosen each year to compose the String Ensemble and the Brass Ensemble. These groups perform at various concerts, dinners, social functions and meetings during the year. This year's Brass Ensemble was especially active during the Christmas season with performances at the Holiday Music Festival, the Christmas Assembly, and at several of the local churches. In the spring of the year the group took part in the "Passion Play" presented by the Coudersport consistory in Coudersport, Pennsylvania.

The sound of strings typifies the orchestra.

The orchestra this year participated in numerous concerts and assemblies. Their first musical event, the Thanksgiving assembly on November 22, presented an arrangement of classical, show, and patriotic music. During the Holiday Music Festival the orchestra accompanied the choir in the performance of the Christmas contata "Christmas Is Coming," and they later joined the choir in their March concert. Their last concert was held on April 14. The orchestra's activities were by no means confined to the school; traveling to both Jamestown and Tidioute, the members demonstrated their fine musical talents by performing for these schools. This year Lisa Hanson and Rick Brewster have served as co-presidents with Mary Sandblade as secretary-treasurer. In addition to their concerts and assemblies, the orchestra provided the music for the all-school production, "The Sound of Music."

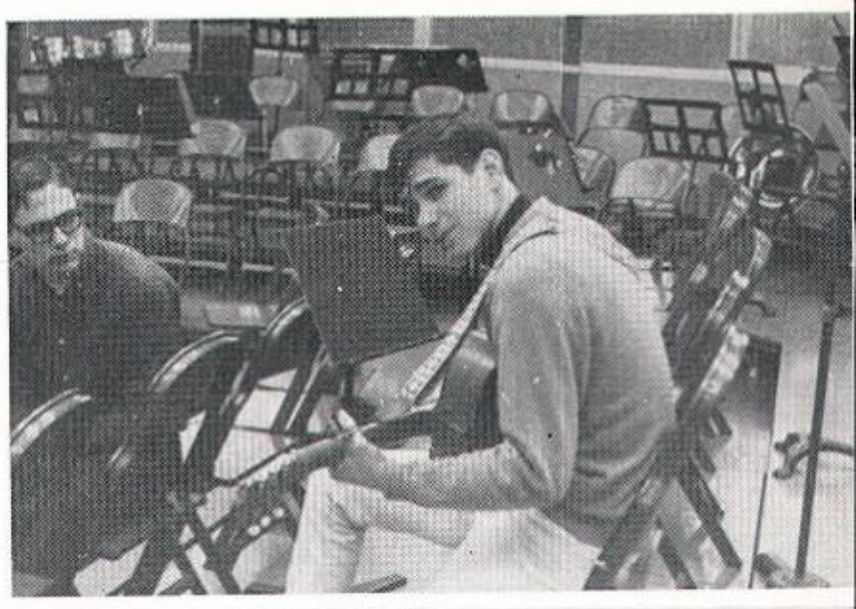
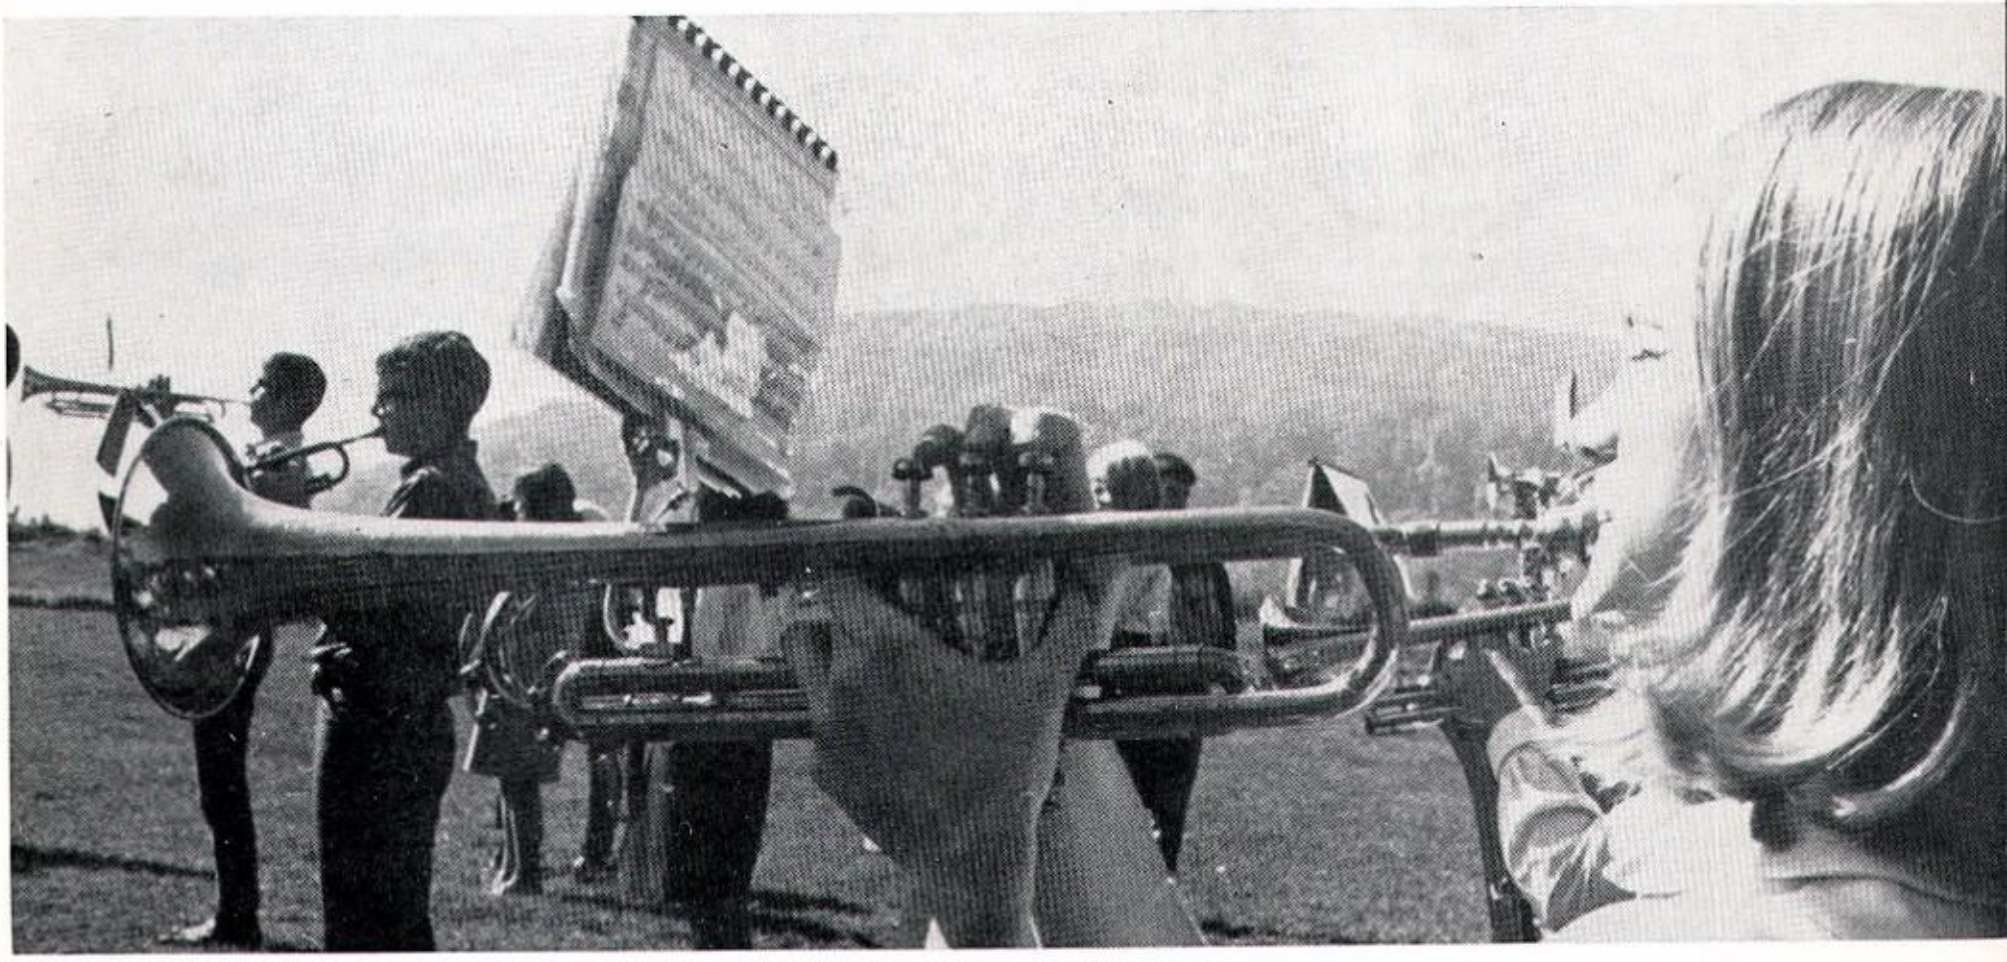
STUDENT

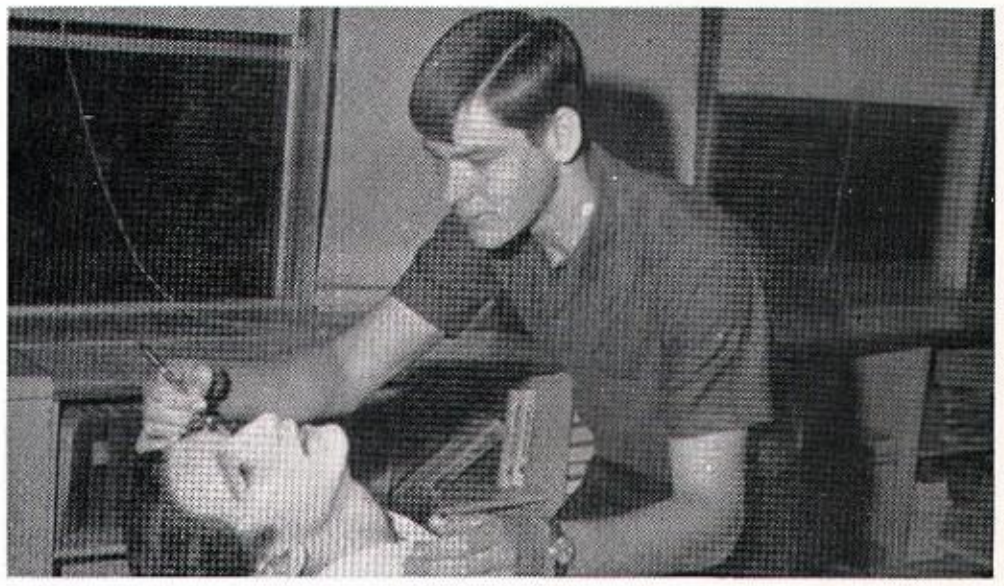
LIFE

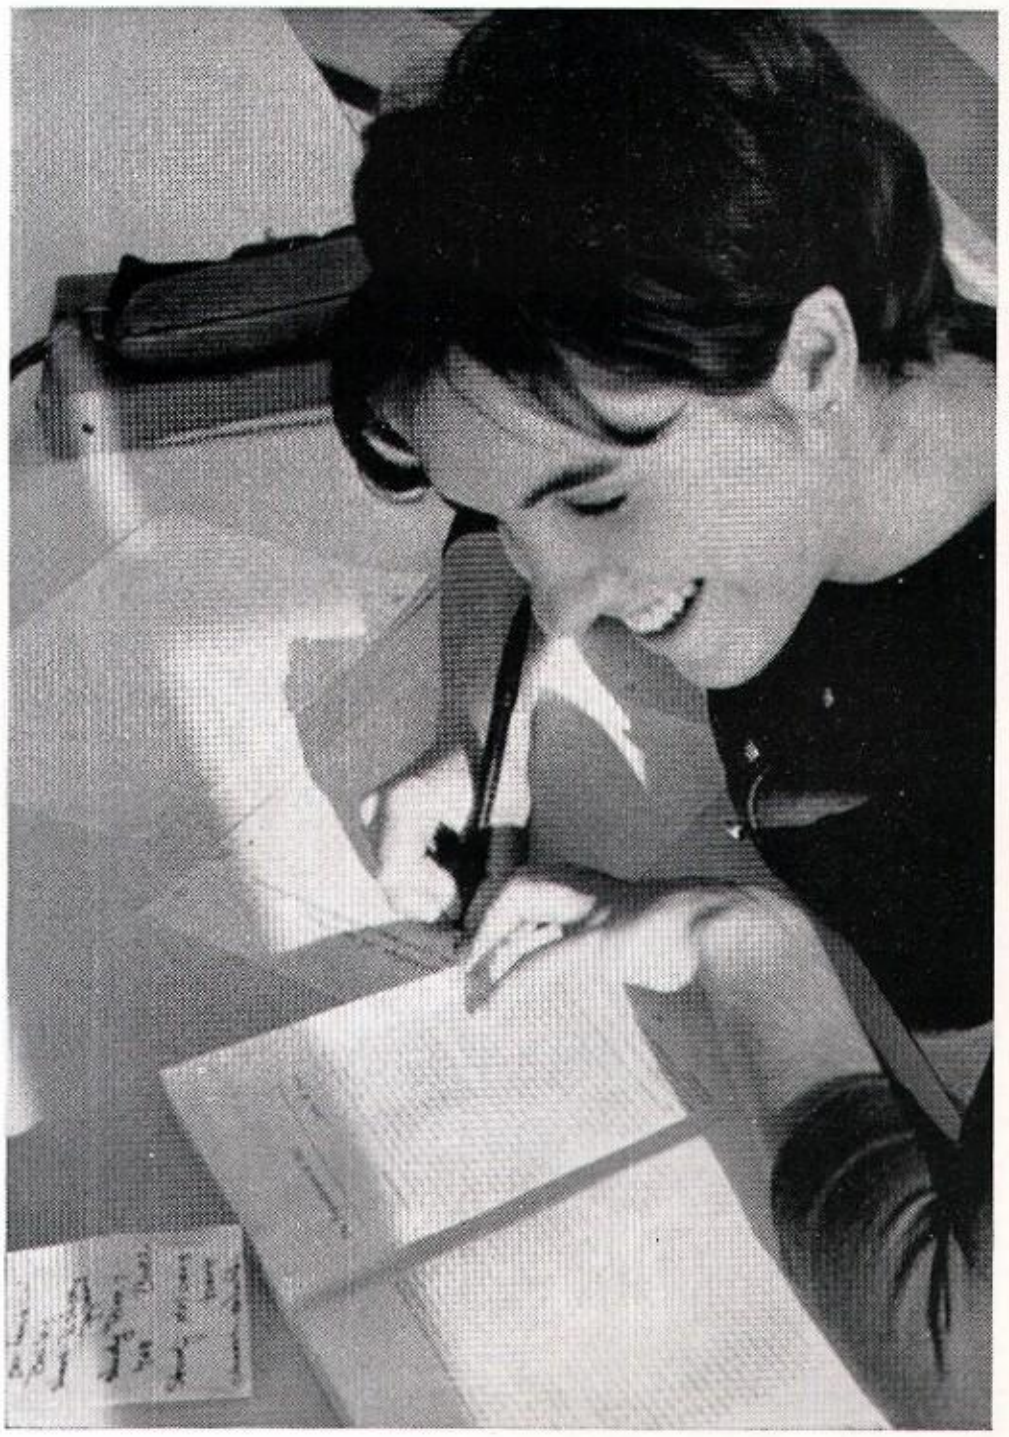




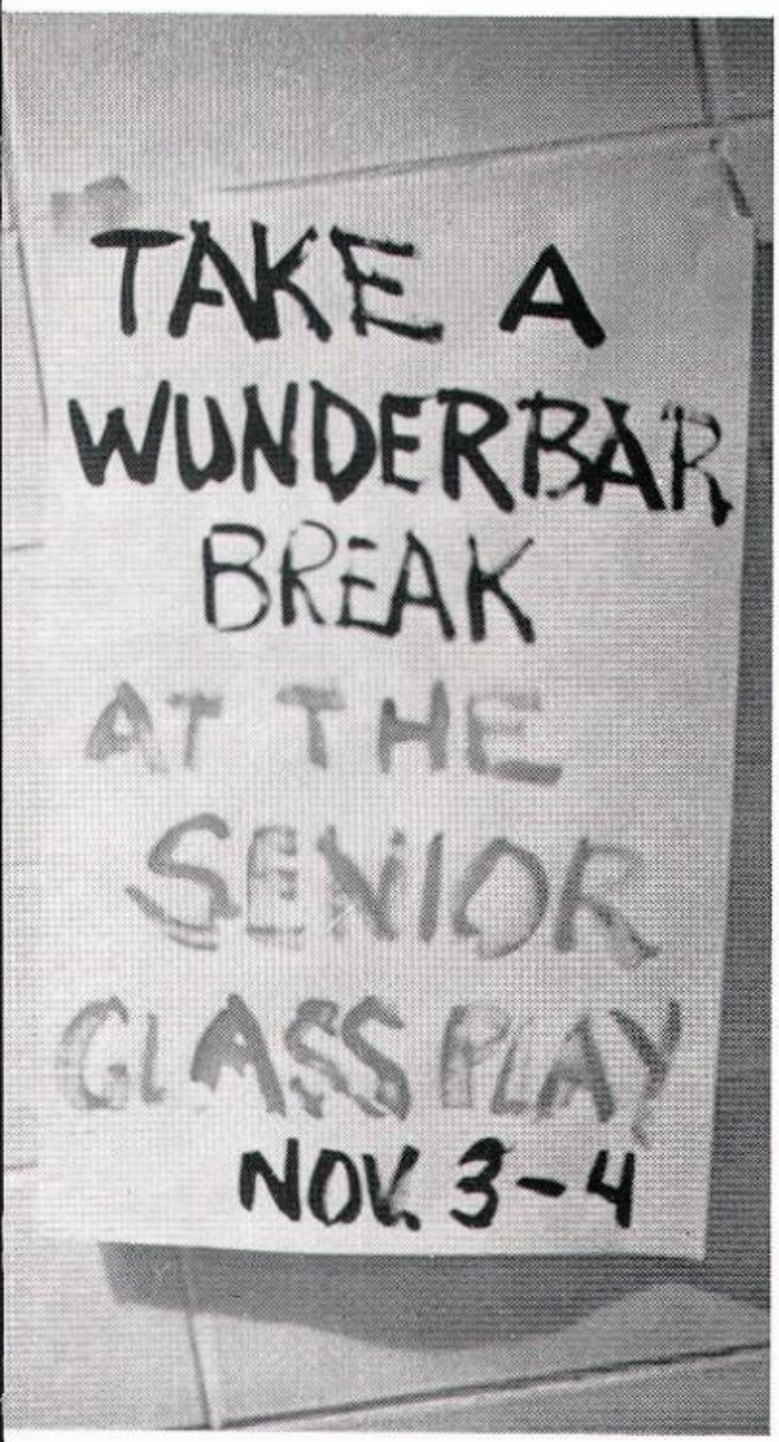
Sporting events, dramatic productions, musical assemblies, and finally graduation all require patience and perserverance.

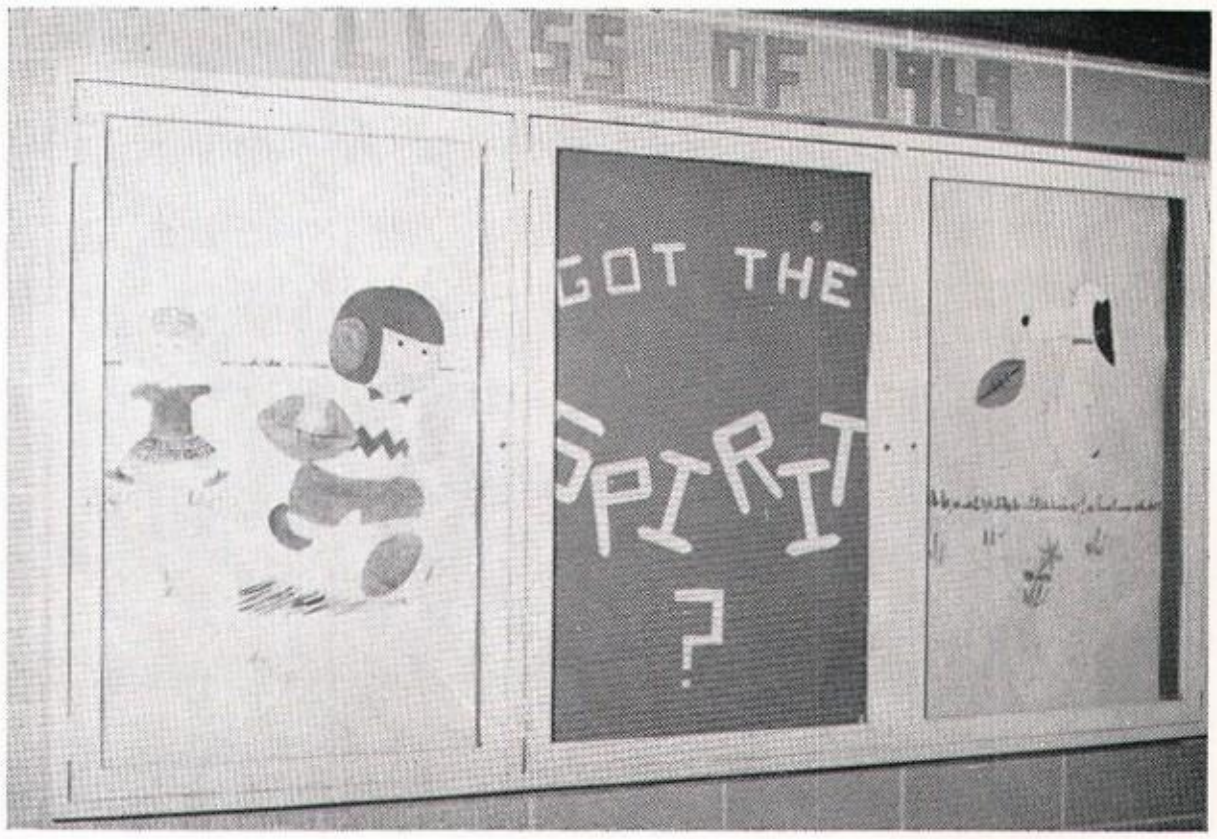
Students spend hours of preparation for a moment of glory.

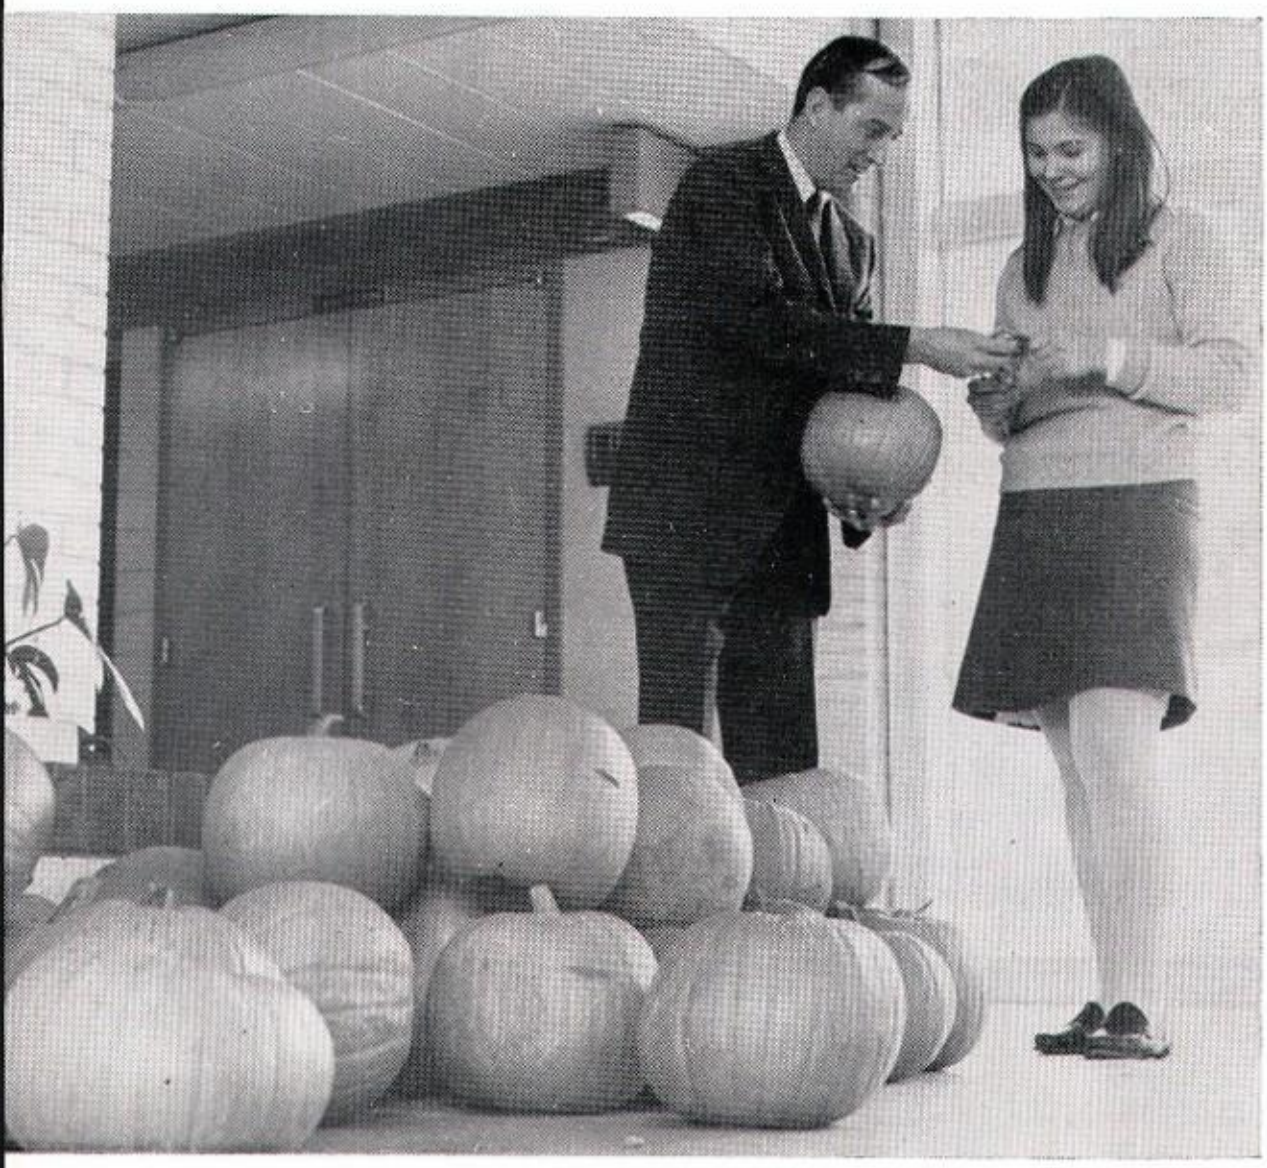




Class projects create memories for all involved.







Warren High runs on spirit all year long!

The Great Escape — some ride, some run, some walk.

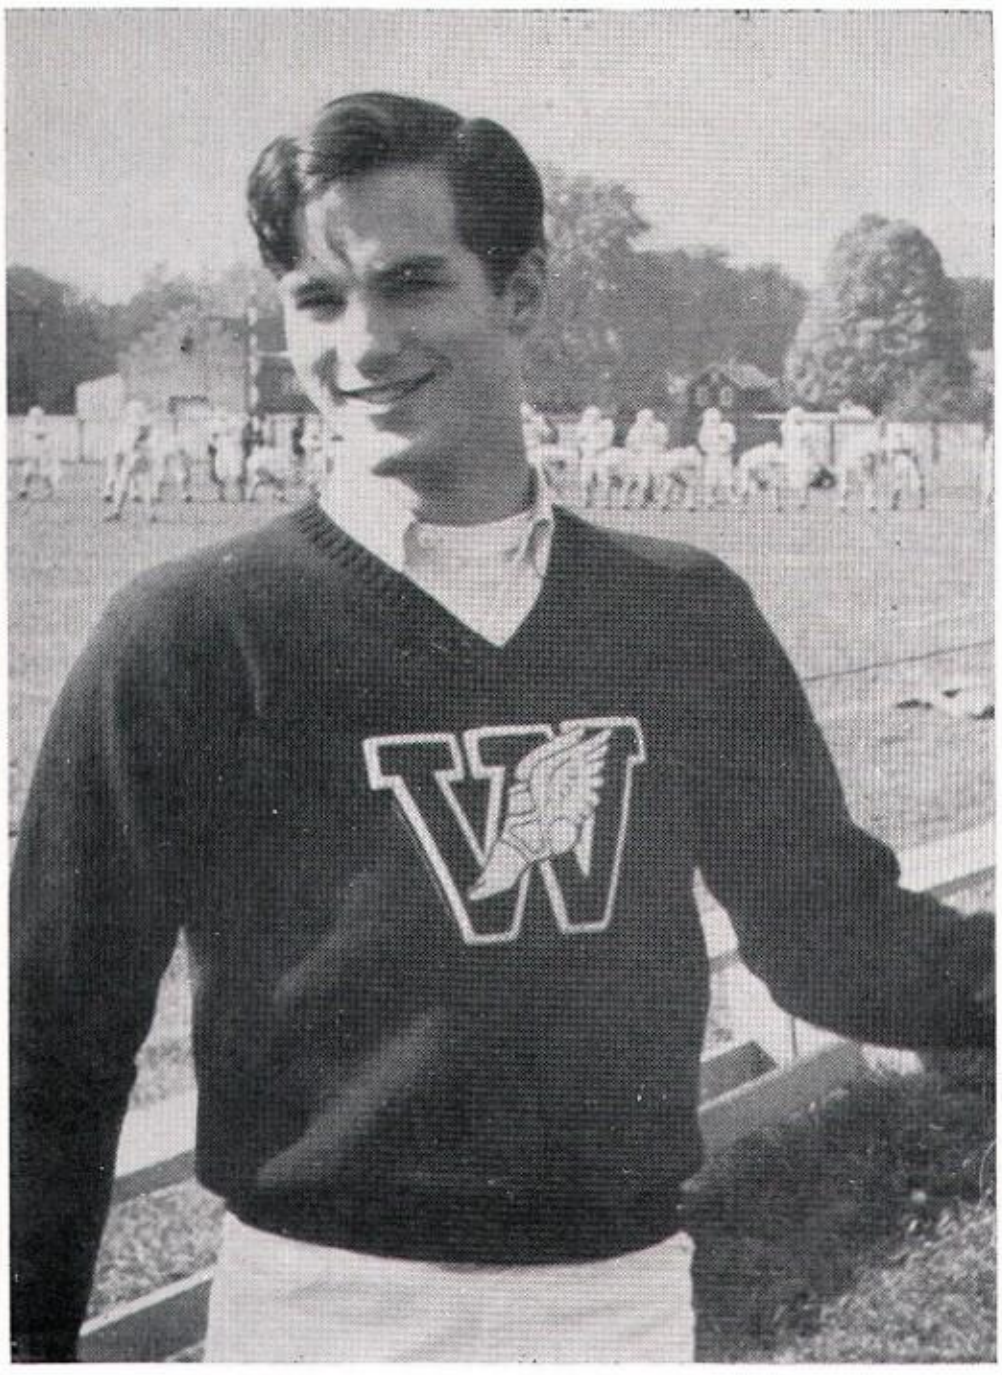
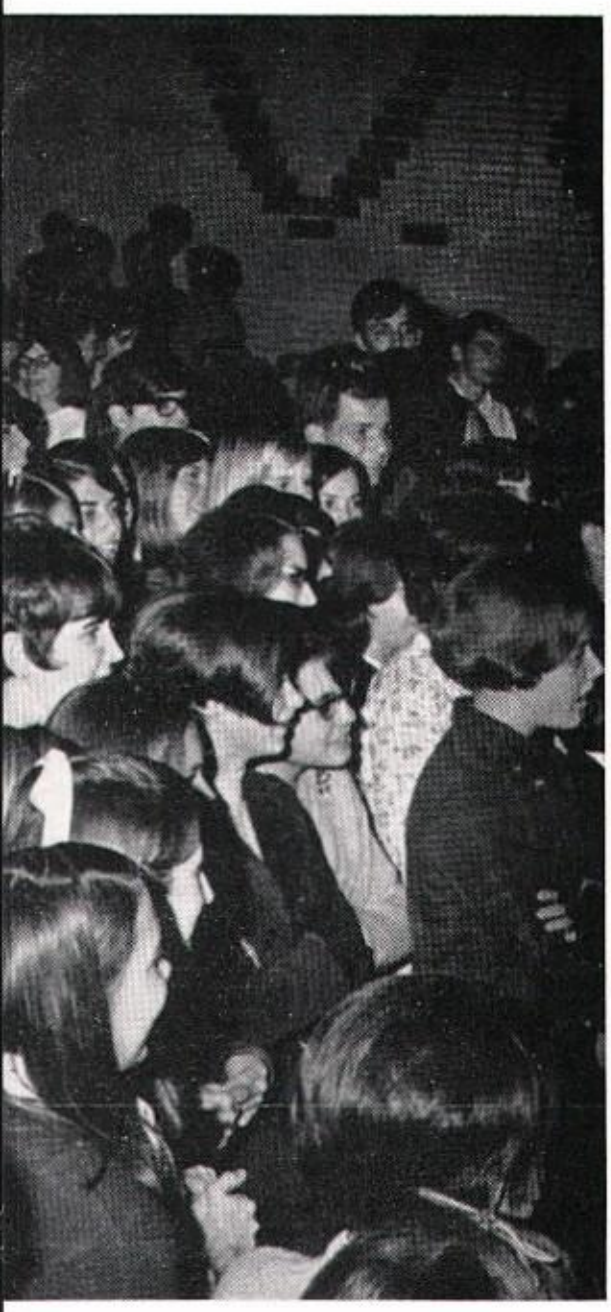
Although 1400 strong, W. A. H. S. students are individuals with personalities, interests, and moods of their own.

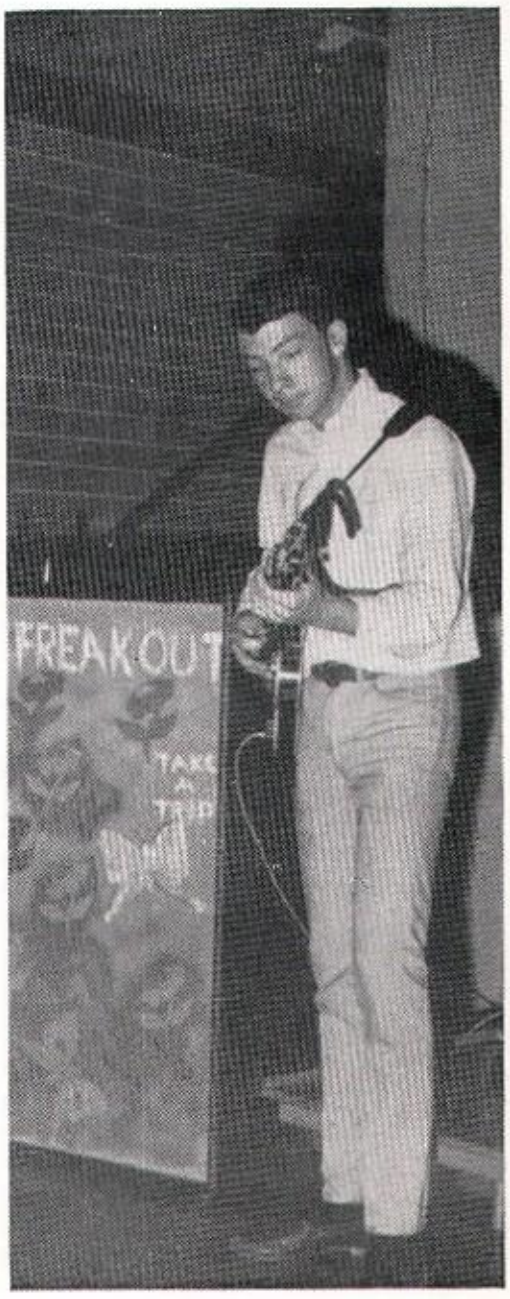


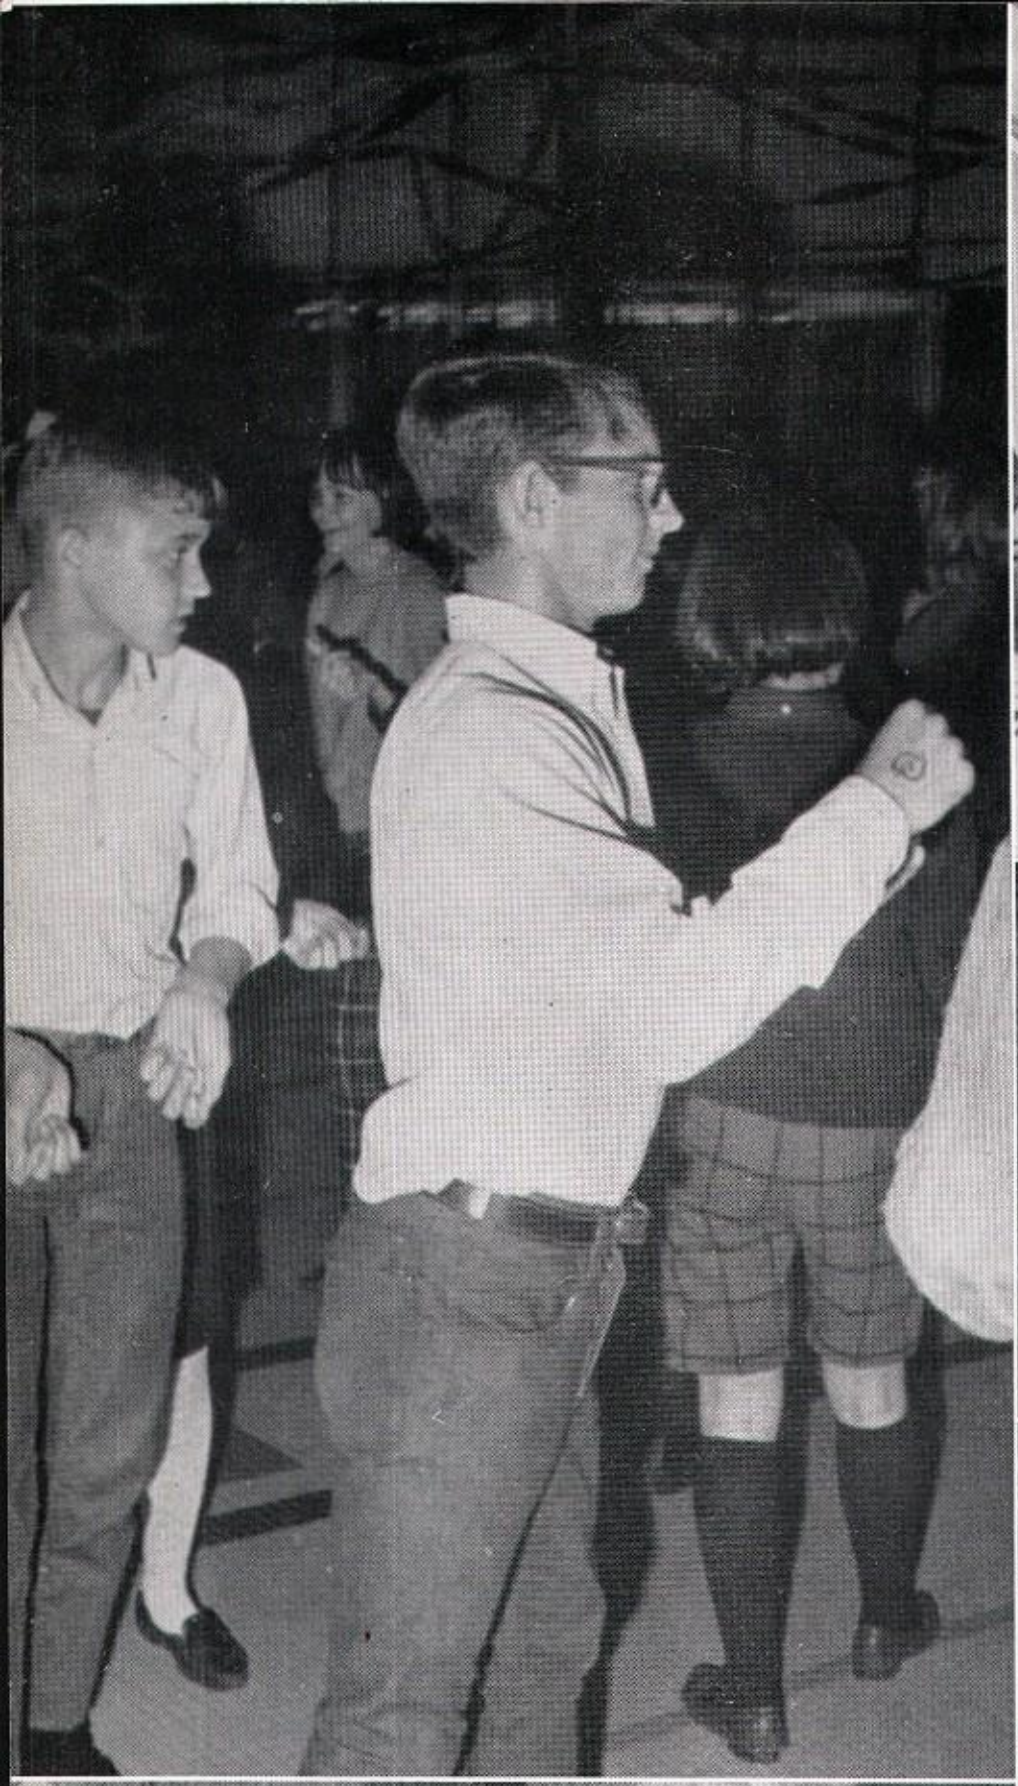
The students approach the challenges of school with various attitudes—nonchalance, pensiveness, sadness, joy or indifference.

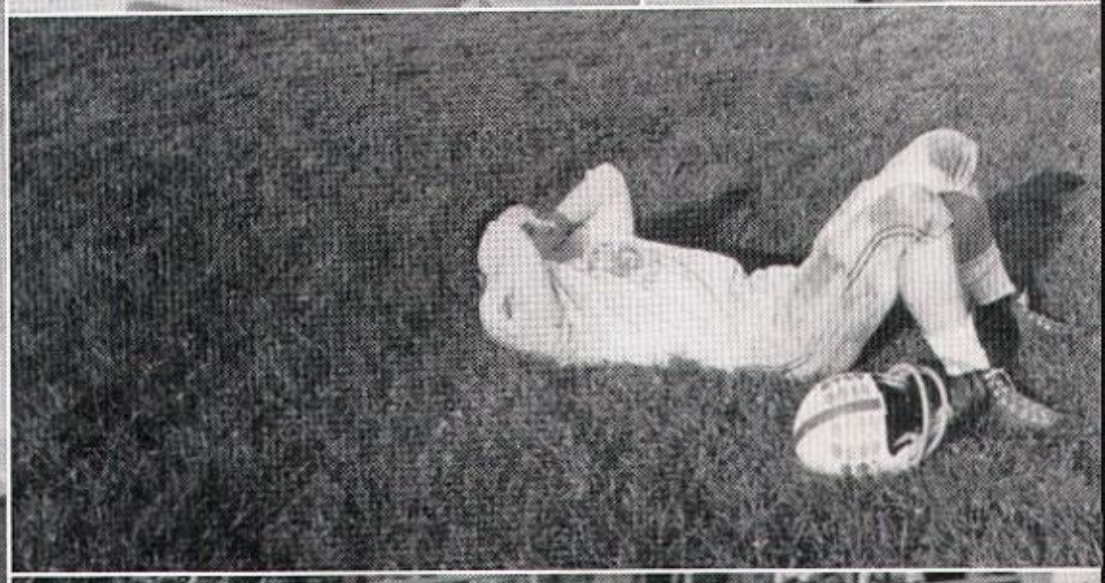
The cafeteria is one place where ritual remains the same, day in and day out.

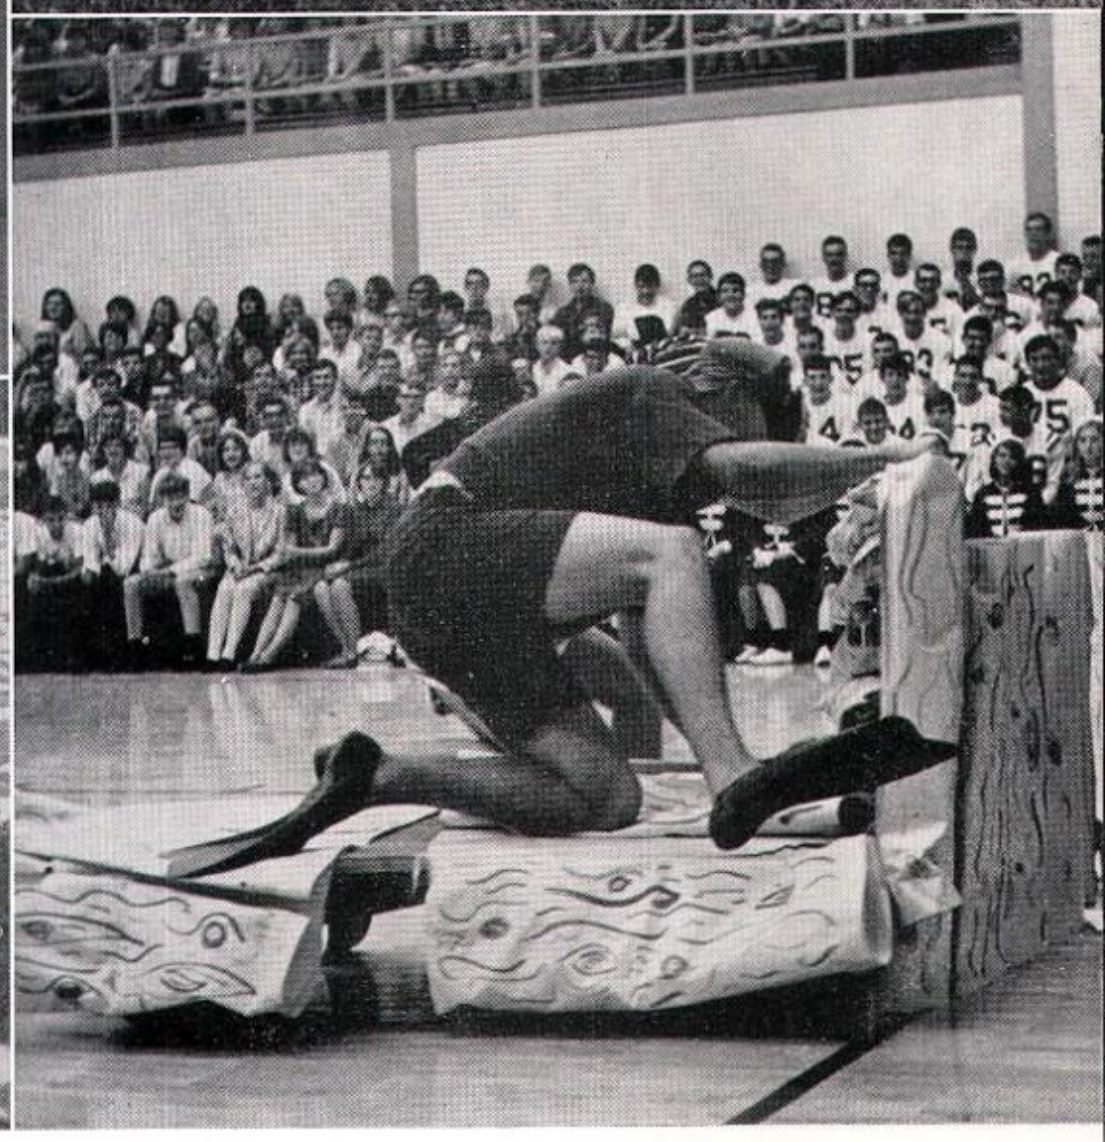


School dances provide students with new experiences which include electing "Mr. Turkey" and "freaking out."









Where else but 'up on the hill' do frogmen break dams, girls sit in the hall and talk, and vice-principals help students 'plant' trees?

JAMES BEICHNER

The time you won your town the race
We chaired you through the market-place;
Man and boy stood cheering by,
And home we brought you shoulder-high.

Today, the road all runners come,
Shoulder-high we bring you home,
And set you at your threshold down,
Townsman of a stiller town.

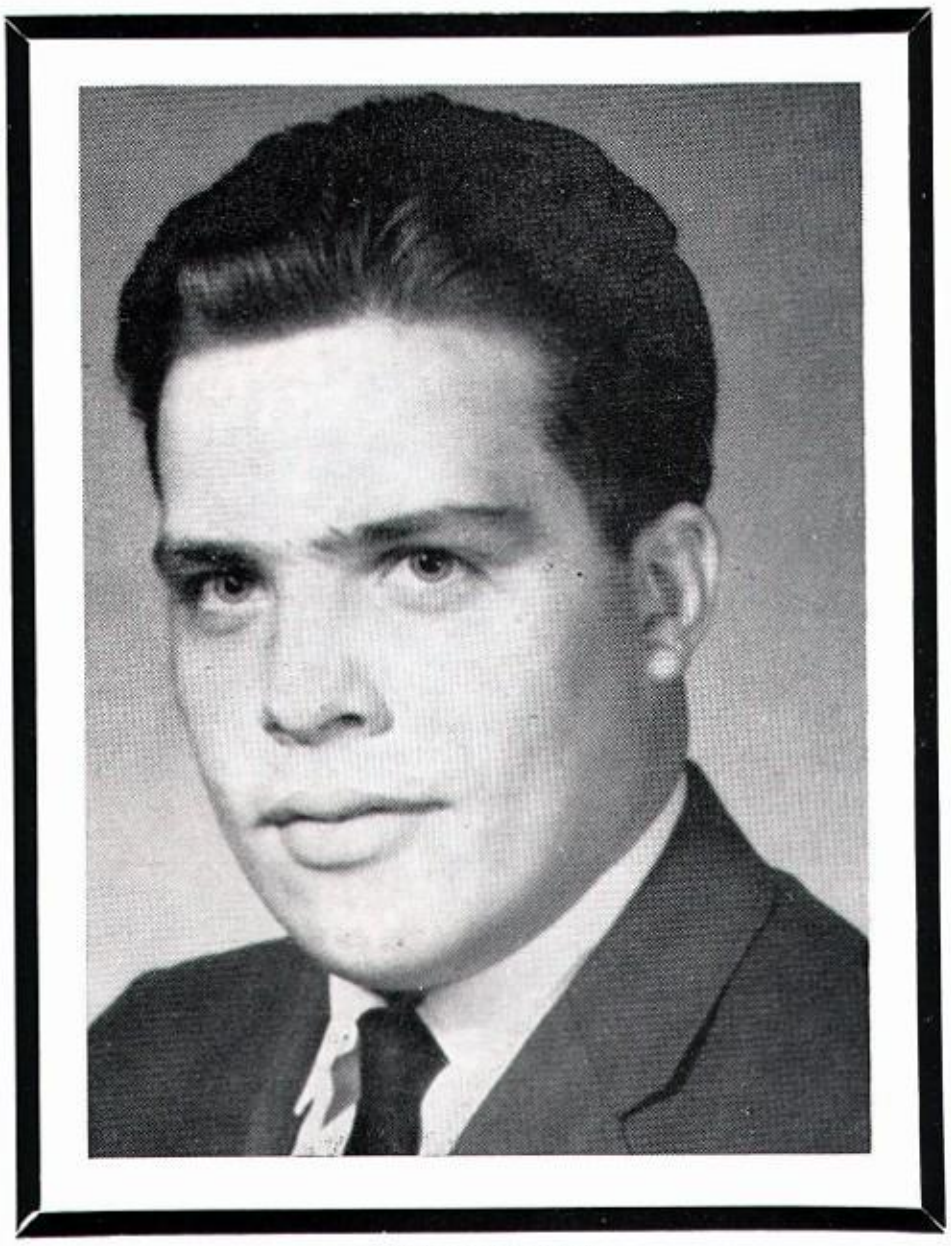
Smart lad, to slip betimes away
From fields where glory does not stay
And early though the laurel grows
It withers quicker than the rose.

Eyes the shady night has shut
Cannot see the record cut,
And silence sounds no worse than cheers
After earth has stopped the ears:

Now you will not swell the rout
Of lads that wore their honours out,
Runners whom renown outran
And the name died before the man.

So set, before its echoes fade,
The fleet foot on the sill of shade,
And hold to the low lintel up
The still-defended challenge-cup.

A. E. Housman



CHARLES GERARDE

He whom a dream hath possessed knoweth no mor
of doubting,
For mist and the blowing of winds and th
mouthing of words he scorns;

Not the sinuous speech of schools he hears, bu
a knightly shouting,
And never comes darkness down, yet he greetet
a million morns.

He whom a dream hath possessed knoweth no mor
of sorrow,
At death and the dropping of leaves and th
fading of suns he smiles,

For a dream remembers no past and scorns th
desire of a morrow,
And a dream in a sea of doom sets surely th ultimate isles.

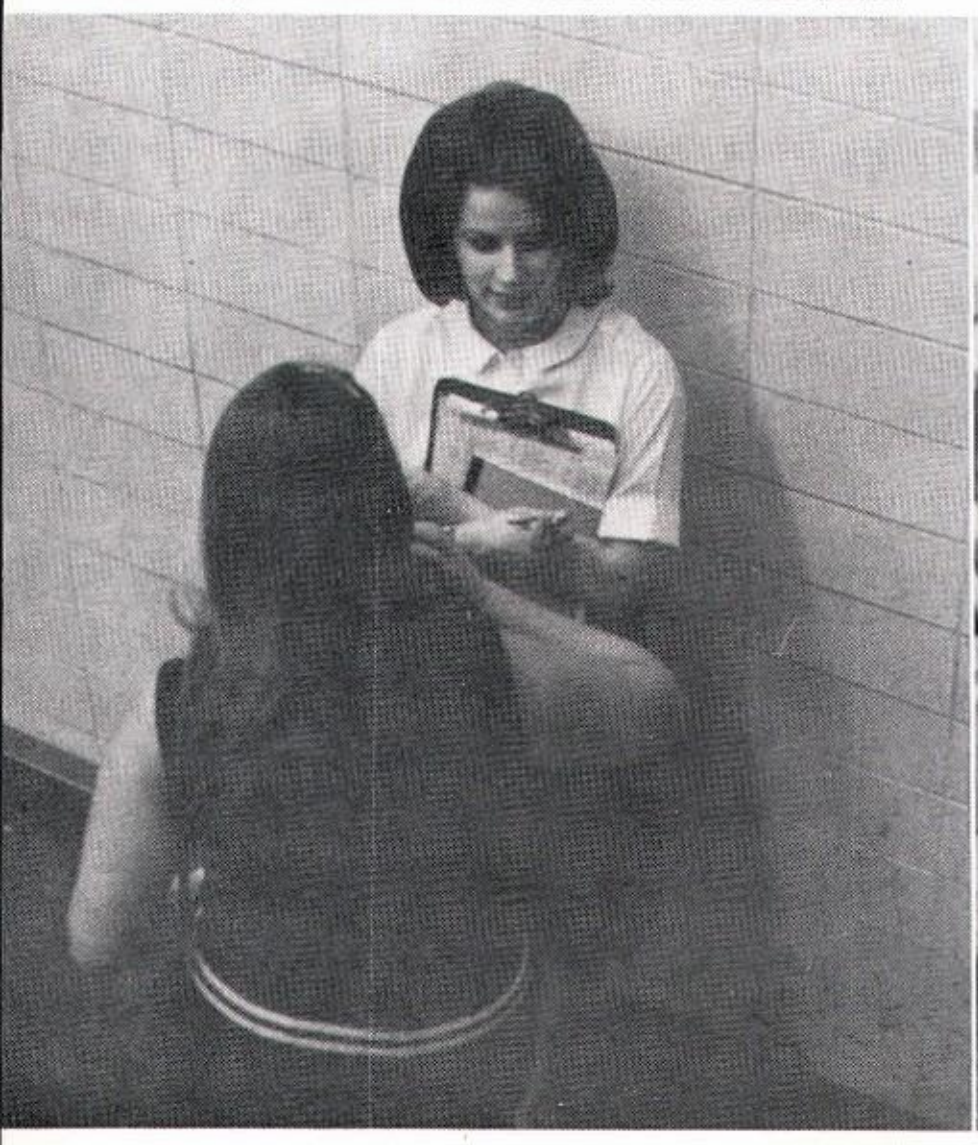
Shaemas O'Sheel

We, the Class of 1968, extend our deepest gratitude and appreciation to Mrs. Mary Creek, our class advisor. Her patience and guidance have given us a class of which we can be proud. She has catered to our whims, cooled hot tempers, and taught us to make our own decisions. She has shown us the importance of compromise and the value of defending our principles. Her endeavors to know each person as an individual have given students a sense of personal identity. By the entire student body, and especially by this senior class, Mrs. Creek will always be remembered as a friend and confidant in high school life.

MRS. MARY CREEK

Words alone cannot honor the class of '68's Mrs. Creek.

Mrs. Creek stops to converse with a student about a class project.



Mrs. Creek worked hard for our class but always stayed in the background.

Explosive running attack sparks Dragon offense.

With the defense in action, the offense takes a well deserved rest.

Completing another successful season, this year's football team finished with a long winning streak of six in a row bringing their record to seven wins and two losses. Pushing the Dragons to these victories, new Head Coach Shea and new Line Coach Beason joined forces with assistants Juliano and Mullen for better discipline and team spirit. This season the team relied mainly on the winged T-formation. The climax of the season came with a 40-0 romp over Jamestown bringing our long-time rivals to one of their worst defeats by the Dragons. Upon completion of a tremendous season Danny O'Neil was named to the first team, All-State and honorable mention All-American.

Long miles of hard work produced drive and endurance in the cross country team. Motivated by a strong desire boys ran daily after school and during the summer to con dition themselves for their meets. This year the team wa headed by a new coach, Mr. Andrew Randas. After achiev ing a season record of six wins and three losses, the cros country team went on to win second place in the sectio meet. Captain Dave Cobb led the team to victory and brok many course records at away meets. This year's effort indicate excellent prospects for the harriers in the years t come.

This year's Dragon wrestling team has won more victories and scored more points than any former Dragon wrestling team. Led by co-captains Doug Sorensen and Darrell Pusateri, the team took second place in the Section II competition and achieved first place in the Holiday Wrestling Tournament.

Many outstanding individual achievements were gained by team members. Doug Sorensen won forty consecutive duels. Steve Jones and Mark Williams were named to the Wrestling Hall of Fame. Lee Bryan and Darrell Pusateri tied for the most pins. Coaches included Mr. Weber, head coach; Mr. Chew, junior varsity coach; Mr. Creek, Beaty coach; and Mr. Knopick, Beaty coach. Dedication and determination from team and coaches produced an outstanding wrestling team.

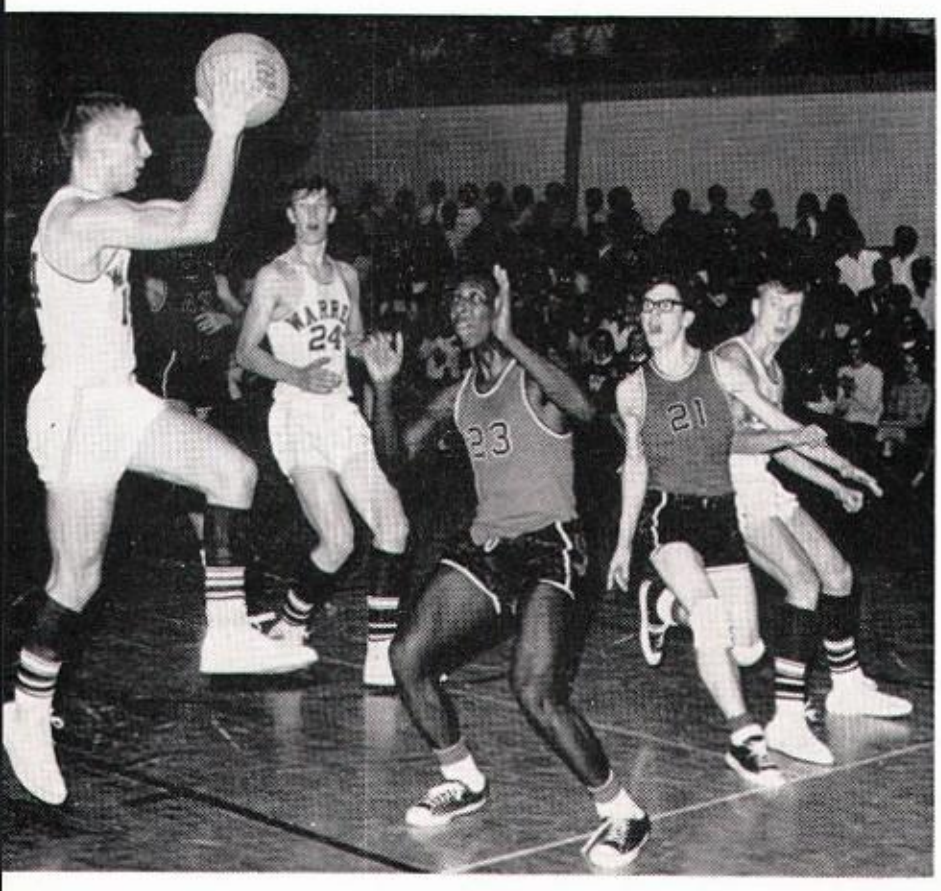
Next year's team will have plenty of experience with Dan Krumm, Randy Jones, and Rob Loranger.



This season the Warren Dragons finished with an 8 - 14 overall record and a 6 - 8 slate in the League, ending up in a threeway tie for fourth place in Section II. Nearly half of their games were lost by less than ten points.

High scorer among the Seniors was Danny O'Neil, the only returning letterman. Rick Nasman was cited as the most improved player during the season, and Dave Cobb was considered as one of the best shooters on the team. Playing an excellent game from an over-all standpoint were Mike Hackett and Jim Cruickshank. Outstanding sophomore Eddie O'Neil was chosen for the All-Section team. In the starting line-up for most of the games, Dan Krumm and Randy Jones completed excellent seasons.

This year, for the first time, the Warren Dragons entered competitive swimming as a varsity sport. They became the fourth swim team to enter Section II competition. Under Head Coach Clifton the team worked out at the Y. M. C. A. pool after school and on Saturdays. Each team member had his own individual work-out schedule. Depending on the competition offered by the opposition the swimmers changed events. Each team was allowed two entries in each of the eleven events and each swimmer could enter two events per meet. Letters were awarded to those boys accumulating two points at each meet or a total of eighteen points for nine meets. This season letters were received by eight team members, two of whom will be returning next year. Although only in their first season, the Dragons produced six swimmers who advanced to Regionals after placing at Districts. Practices will continue throughout the summer for improvement of our record next season.

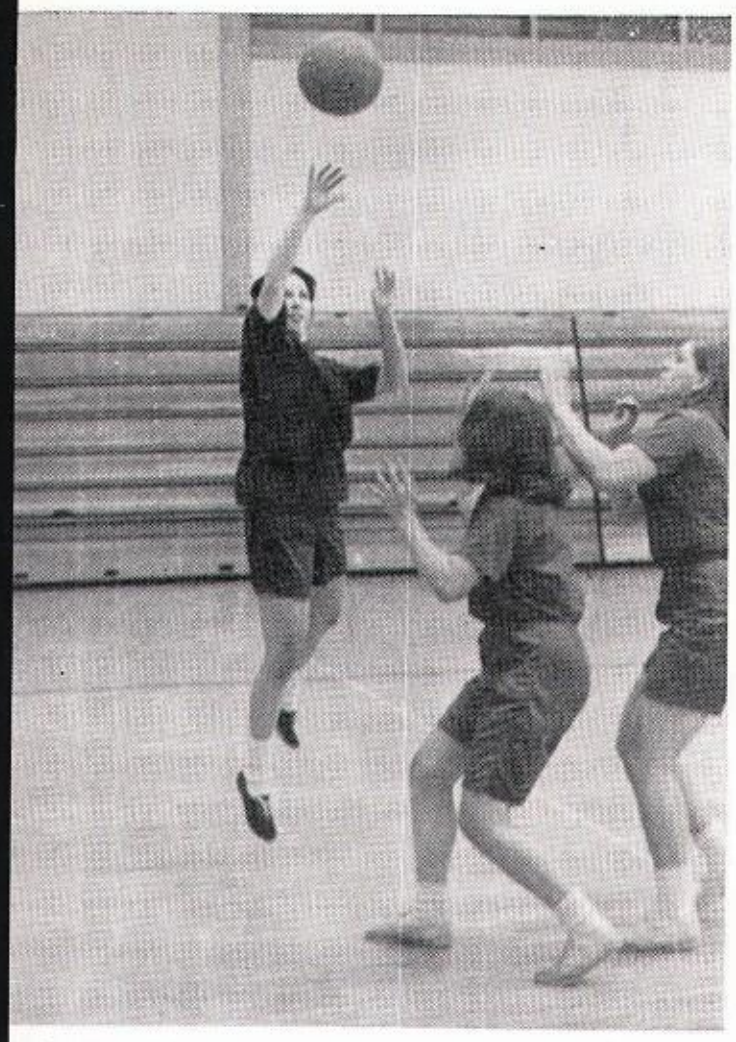
Girls master new skills in G. A. A.

Penny Thompson practices on one of the favorite apparatuses in the gym — the trampoline.

The Girls' Athletic Association, under the capabl supervision of Mrs. Creek, provides enjoyable recreatio for girls. This year the girls co-ordinated their activitie with the unit of study currently a part of the girls' gyr classes. Beginning with softball and volleyball, they wer to tumbling, basketball, and the apparatus, and ende the year with softball and track and field races. In th future they plan to develop an intramural swimmin program utilizing the Y. M. C. A. pool. Through th years their program has continued its effectiveness in th development of physical fitness.



Linda Loomis' effective shooting proves valuable to her team.

Student Council is the voice for student policies and activities.

Jim Hyatt and Mary Anne Frits socialize around the Student Council candy cart.

The Student Council is composed of members elected from each class to represent the student body. As specified in an amendment passed last year, interested students must now submit applications before they will be considered for election. The four officers and an executive board composed of Council committee co-chairmen and class officers lead the Student Council. Each home room is represented by one representative and one alternate. Student Council encourages the participation of the entire student body since without them, there is no Student Council.

Council sponsors the American Field Service Program which is financed through various projects. These include candy sales after school and at wrestling matches and basketball games, the school store, dances, and the book fair. Council awards three two-hundred dollar scholarships each year to seniors going on to higher education.

This year Council was elected to hold a state office. From a group of Junior Council members Chris Lundahl was selected to act as state treasurer. Chris' duties as state treasurer include a trip to the National Convention in Texas.

Chris Lundahl was selected to be Treasurer of the State Student Council.

Honor Society travels to Youngsville to install a new chapter.

Upholding the high ideals of scholarship, leadership, character, and service, Honor Society members took part in a number of worthy activities. In addition to the regular inductions in February for seniors and in May for juniors, this year the Honor Society helped install a chapter at Youngsville High School. The members conducted name card sales for seniors and sponsored a talent show for outstanding students. In order to raise money for scholarships to be given to collegebound students, the Honor Society sponsored a dance in January. Deserving students were honored and the school was served through the activities of the Honor Society.

Model U. N. Delegates present solutions to international problems.

U. N. Delegates Patrick Chauliac, Kathy Jordan, and Janet Smith board the bus to the Model U. N. General Assembly in Erie.

The Model United Nations increases understanding of world government and generates interest in the problems of our modern world. Committees draft bills concerning various international problems and present them at Gannon College.

This year Warren delegates led the Latin American Bloc as Brazil. Bills concerning international tensions in the Middle East, the Southeast Asian threat to international peace and security, a permanent U. N. peace-keeping force, U. N. assistance for economic and social development, and the admission of Communist China to the U. N. were presented in the General Assembly at Erie. After much compromise, the General Assembly passed a coalition bill from the committee on economic and social development. The bill passed incorporated all the ideas presented by the Warren group. Passage of this bill proved to be the highlight of the Warren delegation since it was the only one passed in the General Assembly.

During his stay in Warren, Patrick resided with Mr. and Mrs. John Shaffer.

This year Warren Area High School has had the pleasure of hosting Patrick Chauliac from France under the American Field Service Program. Patrick has resided with Mr. and Mrs. John Shaffer and his American brother Joe. Juan Monqaut (Pilo) from Argentina, who was sponsored by the Rotary Club, was honored at a party before his departure in December. Living and sharing the experience of school life with these students has been a valuable step in increasing world understanding. The friendships formed and knowledge gained through these relationships will remain as an everlasting remembrance in the life of this school and its students. Sponsored by the worthy A. F. S. Committee of Student Council, these students have increased both the personal and academic pleasures of school life.

The A. F. S. adds to the international flavor of the High School.

As a Christmas present from the Student Council, Patrick receives a call from his parents.

Debators were called upon to demonstrate their ability to think and reason logically and to speak with style and poise while confronting their opponent. Warren debators met teams from the Upper Allegheny Debate League which included teams from Meadville, Bradford, and Titusville. They also debated Oil City. The pros and cons of Congress' establishment of uniform regulations to control criminal investigation procedures was the question discussed at all the meets. Debators were stimulated to think and to come up with logical solutions to this important modern-day problem. Their achievements and improvements were noted in their fine performances.

During a debate, Sherri Zawacki and John Harper discuss their case.

The Key Club, sponsored by the Warren Kiwanis Club, devotes itself to service projects for the school and the community. At Christmas this year the Club helped decorate the Farm Colony of the State Hospital. A child from the Hoffman Home was taken on a shopping trip, and the Key Club paid for his purchases. Members also assisted during "Tag Days," aiding the Humane Society and the American Cancer Society. Serving at the Kiwanis Spaghetti Supper on election day, Key Club members offered their services to many. To plan these projects, Key Club met often at tureen dinners. The State Convention held in Pittsburgh offered new ideas for the Club.

Key Club commits itself to service in both school and community.

A chocolate cake after the class plays are over is probably the most recognition given to the members of the stage crew for their many hours of hard work. Few people realize the importance of the crew, but if someone failed to dim the lights during the Honor Society induction, the candle-lighting ceremony would lose its dignity. If the curtain were not pulled at the proper time, both the audience and the cast would become confused. The stage crew ensures the efficiency and production of auditorium activities.

This year German Club continued its traditional program of activities. A cider and doughnut get-together offered students an opportunity to meet new Club members. In December German Christmas carols were featured at the annual banquet. A picnic in the spring rounded out the year's activities, leaving students with a better understanding of the language and culture of Germany.

The German Folksingers met throughout the year learning authentic German folk songs. Students involved in this group gained a deeper insight into the German language.

French Club explores the customs of life in France.

Several tureen dinners and a Mardi Gras party have made the French Club program both entertaining and informative this year. At the first dinner Patrick Chauliac widened the groups' knowledge of French customs and culture by showing and discussing his slides of France. At the Christmas tureen members exchanged small gifts. The Mardi Gras party and the pizza party in the spring proved to be fun-filled events for all who attended. Learning of France and the French was an enjoyable experience this year for members of the French Club.

The Future Teachers of America is an organization which seeks to create and develop interest in the teaching profession. To gain new and interesting ideas for the program of this organization, its officers attended fall and spring workshops in Erie, Pennsylvania. In January all county F. T. A. groups gathered in Warren for a dinner and program. Visitation was held at Beaty and at the grade schools to enable members to observe the actual nature of classroom instruction in their field of interest. The F. T. A. sponsored two school dances, and held a tea for Mrs. Lucy Valero, a member of the Pennsylvania Staff of the Future Teachers of America. The F. T. Bowlers reserve Saturday mornings for intramural competition.

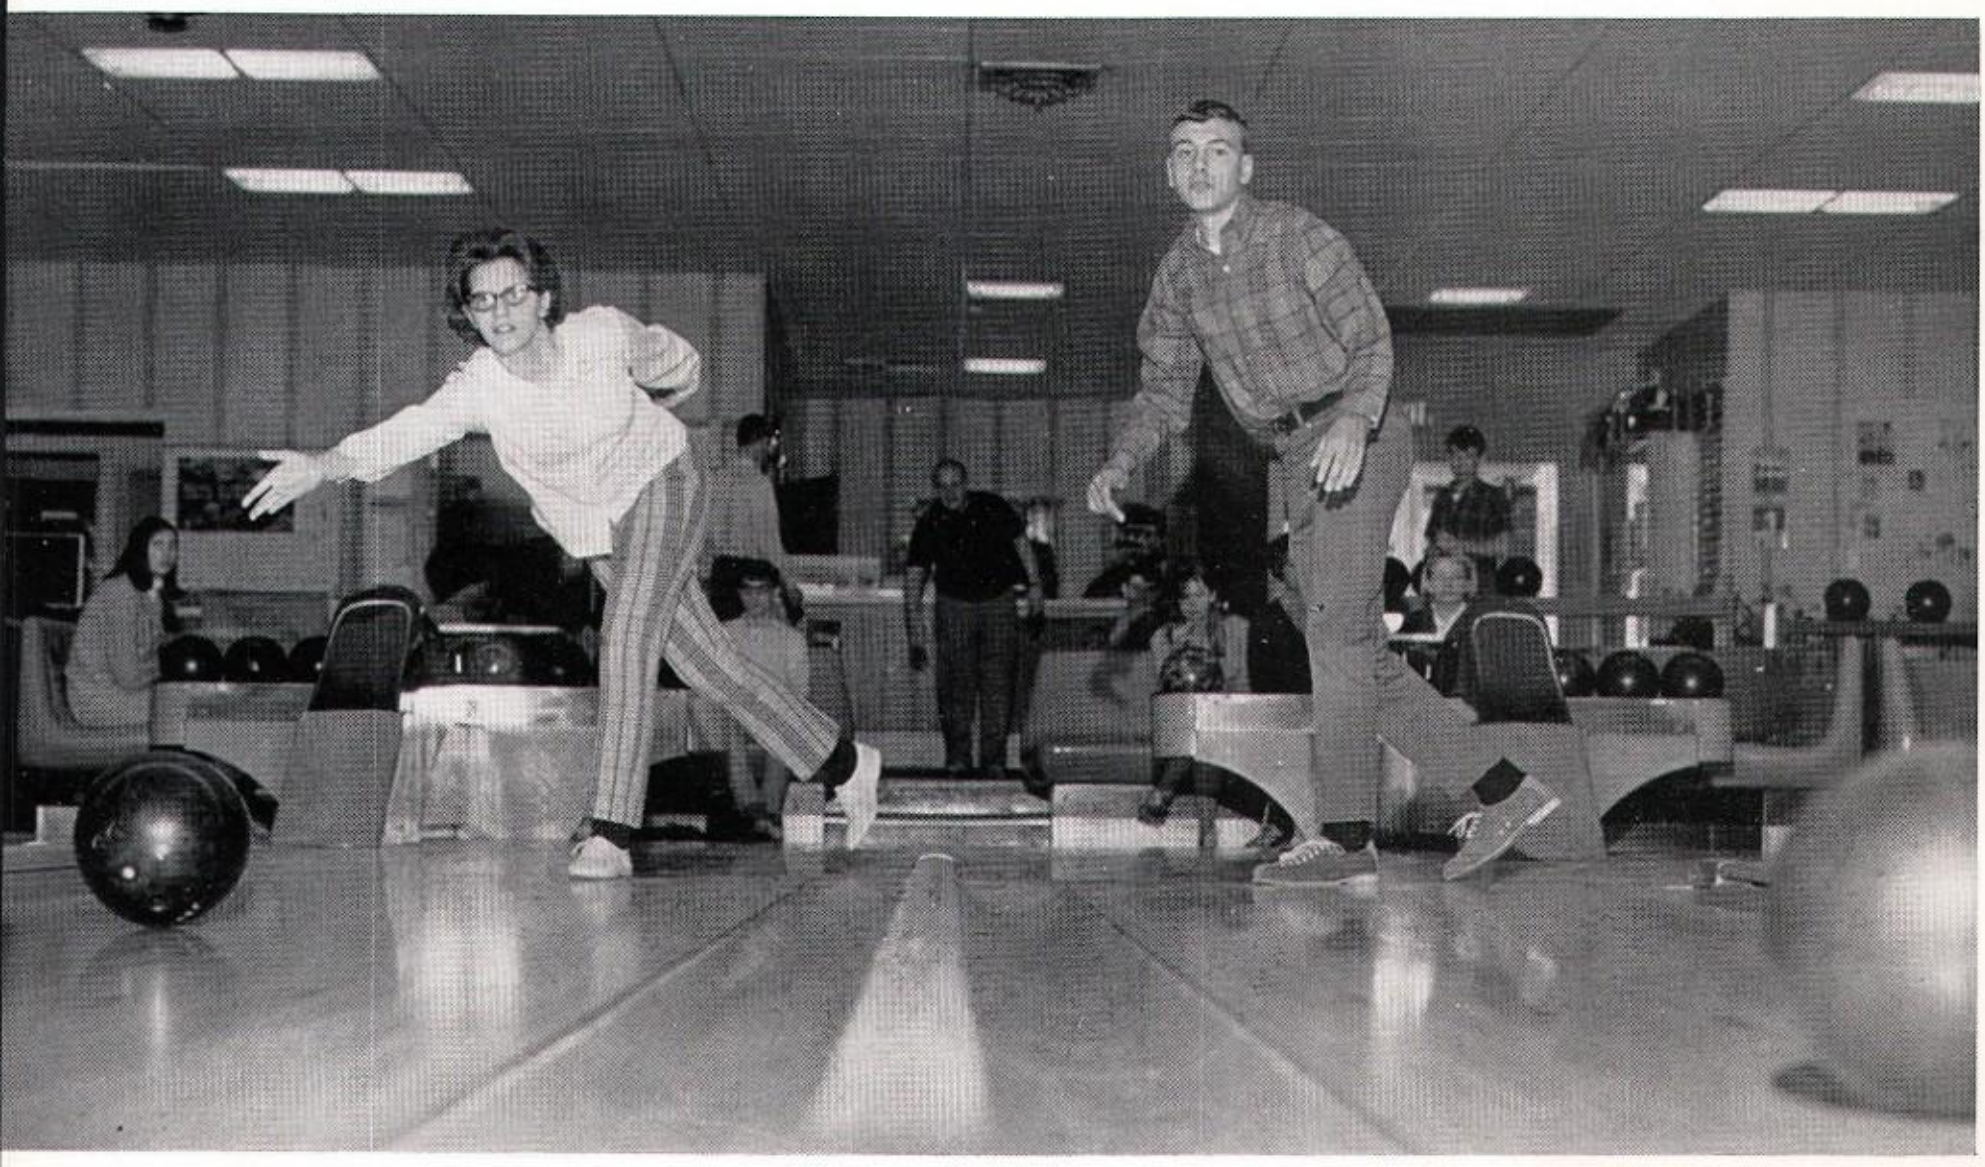
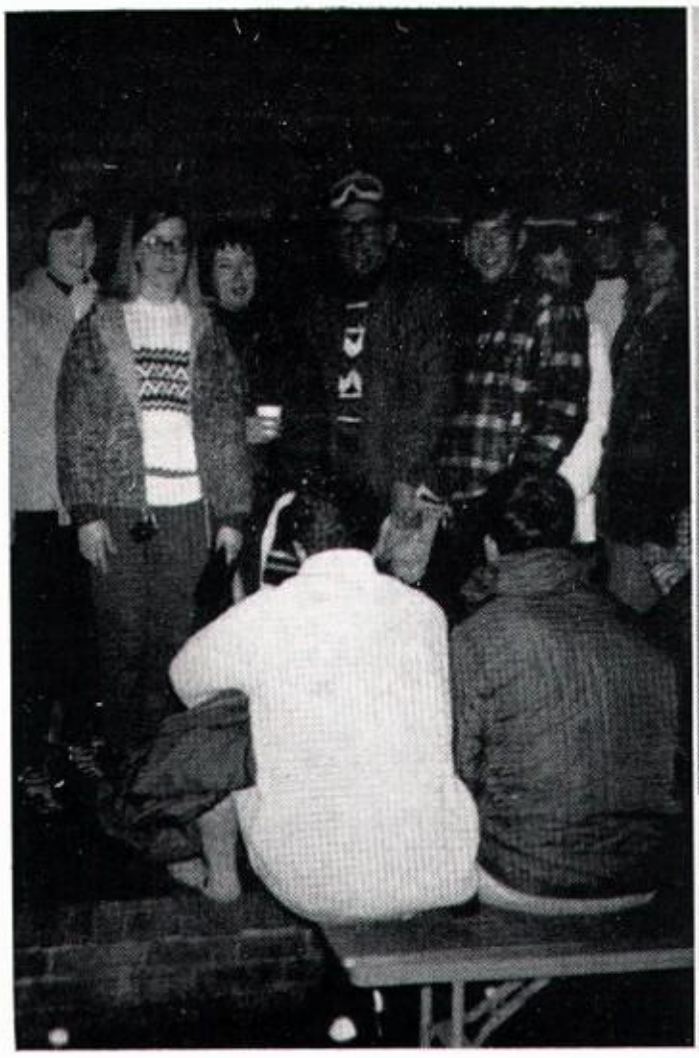
Jane Sidon and Chuck Loomis demonstrate proper bowling form.





Hardy Ski Club members crowd around the fireplace at Kissing Bridge.

Ski Club enjoys an eventful season of fun-filled skiing.

Revealing an active interest in this winter sport, members of the Ski Club took to the slopes. A trip to Kissing Bridge climaxing the skiing year was made possible by funds raised at club dances. Mr. Jewell, the group's advisor, encouraged student enjoyment of skiing, but stressed the importance of safety and proper equipment.

A good time was had by all on the return trip from Kissing Bridge.

Rugged skiers worship the crisp, cold air and gleaming snow.

Mrs. Donaldson, one of the "kids," helps unload the bus.

Sue Mong, Jeff Frailey, Phyllis Valone, and Sue Smith display the cheerful atmosphere that accompanied the ski trip.

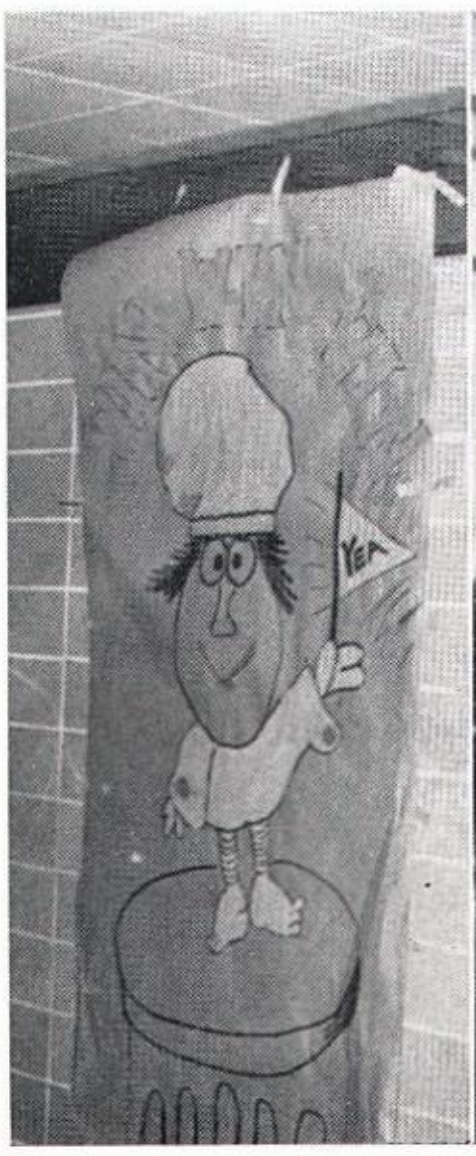
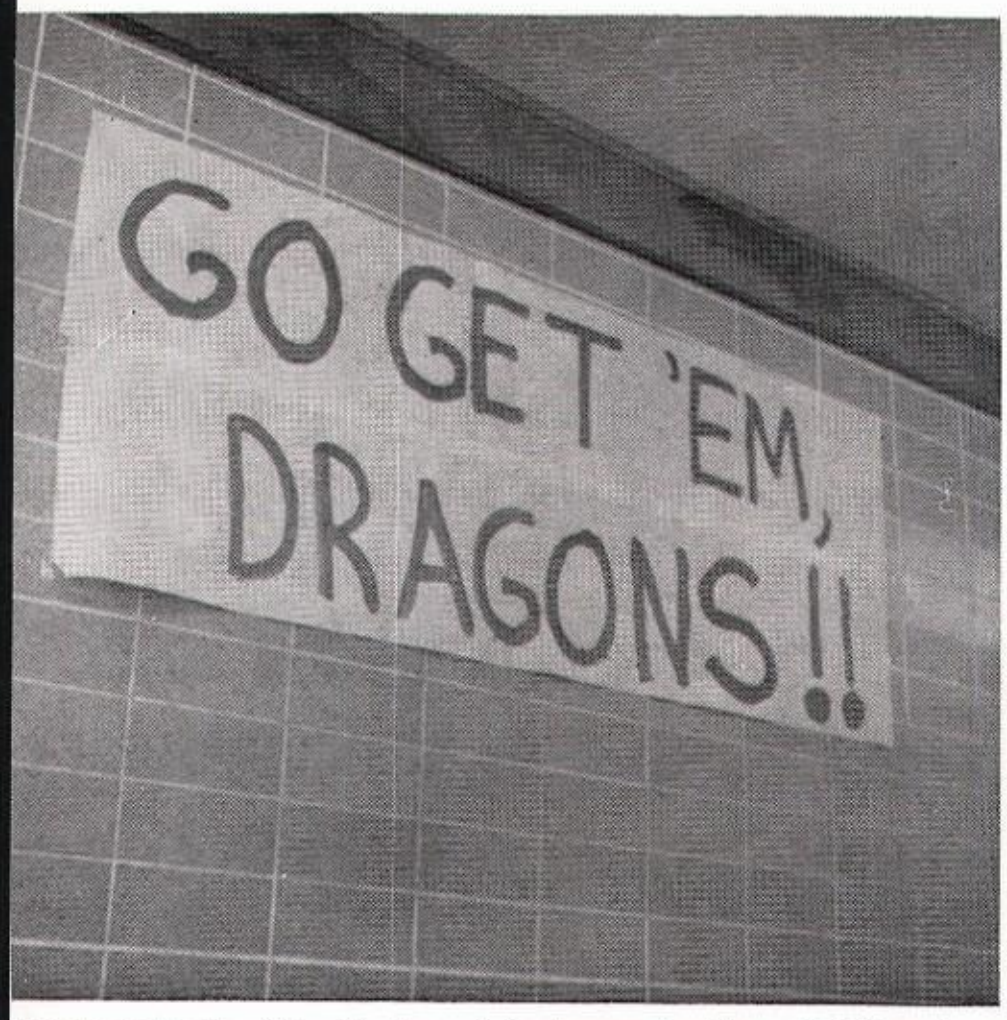
This is the Pep Club Dragon which made appearances at pep assemblies and sports events.

Pep Club creates spirit for athletic events.

A friendly fan on a garbage can.



Faith Witkin, Lyn Witkin, Gayle Stewart, Becky Lyle, and Carol Sly hold the Spirit Megaphone which was an important member of every pep assembly.



Because of the Pep Club, this type of sign became familiar to WAHS students.

Under the supervision of Miss Bidek, Pep Club adds spirit to school athletic events. Large painted signs spur teams on to victory. Besides their use of artistic talent, members perform a service by checking coats at home wrestling matches and basketball games. They are also responsible for seeing that the Dragon mascot, purchased with Pep Club funds, is at the games.

Pep Club posters add variety to W. A. H. S.

Varsity Club equips the gym with a new sound system.

"Put hustle in your muscle; buy a Wunder Bar!" was seen and heard everywhere as members of the Varsity Club practiced their unique sales pitch urging students to buy Wunder Bars. Well-known at the high school for spirited support of all their projects, Varsity Club members showed imagination and originality in achieving success. This year, they presented the school with a public address system for the gymnasium and set up a memorial fund for Jim Beichner and Mike Hesch.

All Varsity Lettermen and two-year athletes are eligible for membership in the Varsity Club. The boys are proud of their club and the sports in which they participate. They assist at all home athletic events, their two annual dances, and the annual men teachers' basketball game. Advisors for the club this year were Mr. Lee Chew and Mr. Robert Hovan.

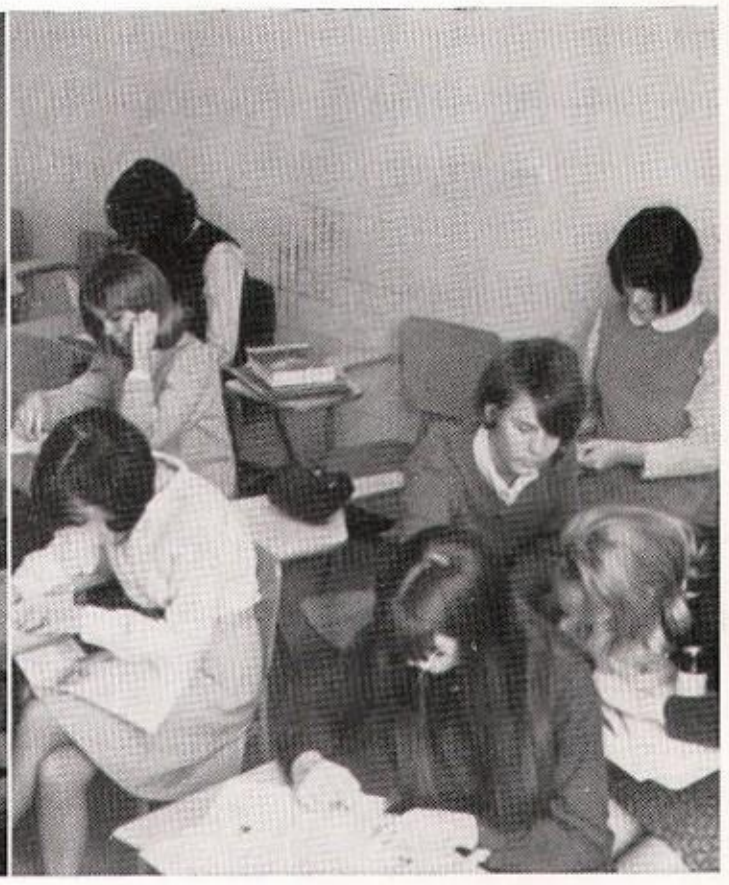
Staff members Wendy Johnson, Linda Barney, Carol Mohney, Mimi Lewis, and Betsy Griffin get the DRAGONETTES ready for distribution.



DRAGONETTE Staff members work diligently to get the school newspaper printed on time.

DRAGONETTE Staff gives the revived newspaper a big comeback.

Students voiced their opinions and expressed their creative ideas in the school newspaper, the Dragonette. Revived after a year of inactivity, the Dragonette was welcomed back by both students and faculty. This year Miss Bevevino served as advisor for the Dragonette Staff which met daily the seventh period. This group produced an informative and amusing school newspaper which included articles concerning fashion, sports, school activities, and student opinions. Every issue came alive with new and exciting ideas and pictures. Members of the staff gained valuable experience in journalistic techniques. The Dragonette Staff strived to keep students and teachers well informed of current school happenings.

Row 3: Cheryl Svensen, Connie Winn, Diane Larson, Patti Nelson, Patti Reuff, Paula Lobdell, Mr. Ed Miller.

Connie Winn, Patti Reuff, and Marilyn Hanchett go over the Business Board's financial records.

DRAGON Business Board works hard to appropriate DRAGON Funds.

Selling popcorn at football games was one aspect of raising funds.

Carol Gustafson, Jane Johnson, and Sue Smith check their lists for soliciting.

Debbie Dalrymple, Diane Larson, Shirley Niederer, and Cindy Huber discuss the results of their fund raising projects.

D. B. B. dances boost DRAGON finances.

To enable every student to purchase a yearbook the DRAGON Business Board raises funds to limit its price. Through concession stand sales at football games, sponsorship of dances, and solicitations of area merchants and business firms, the DRAGON Business Board increases DRAGON funds. The sale of plastic book covers and the yearbook itself balances the costs of publication. The efforts of the Board aid each student in his purchase of a DRAGON.

A hall sign announced one of the many DRAGON Business Board dances.

DRAGON Editors display originality in the creation of the yearbook.

This year the DRAGON Board of Editors have dedicated themselves to the creation of the best DRAGON possible. Working industriously every day seventh period, they have added new and exciting ideas in an effort to provide a truly representative account of school life. They have strived to make each page come alive, and they have attempted to preserve the highlights of school activities. Realizing the great variety of life present in this school, its students, and its activities, the Board has tried to make the remembrance of this significant phase of life both memorable and meaningful.

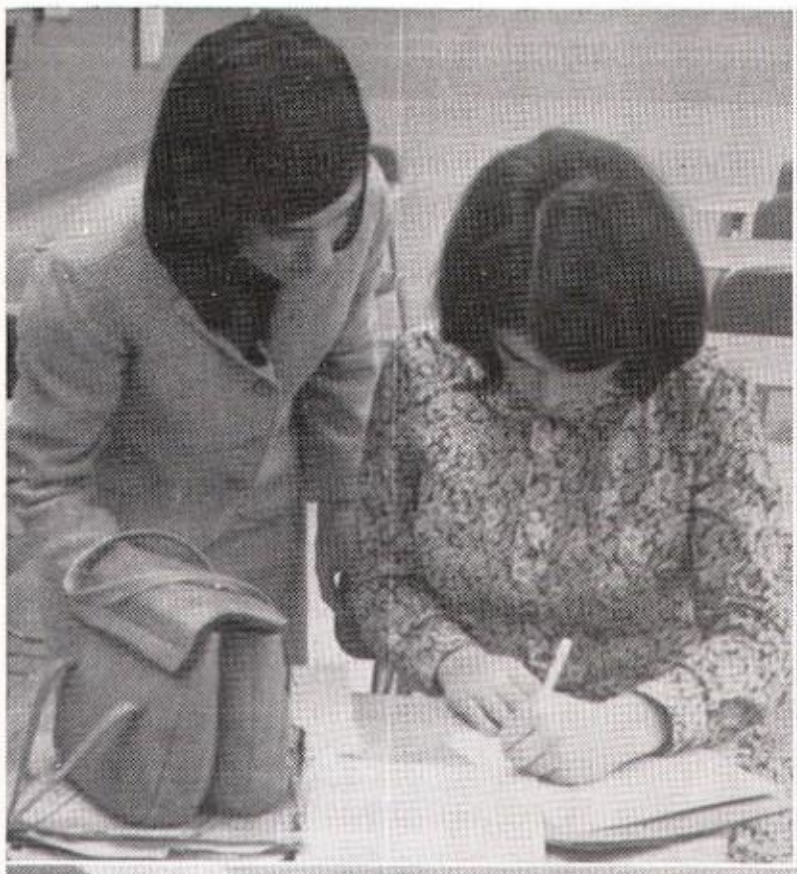
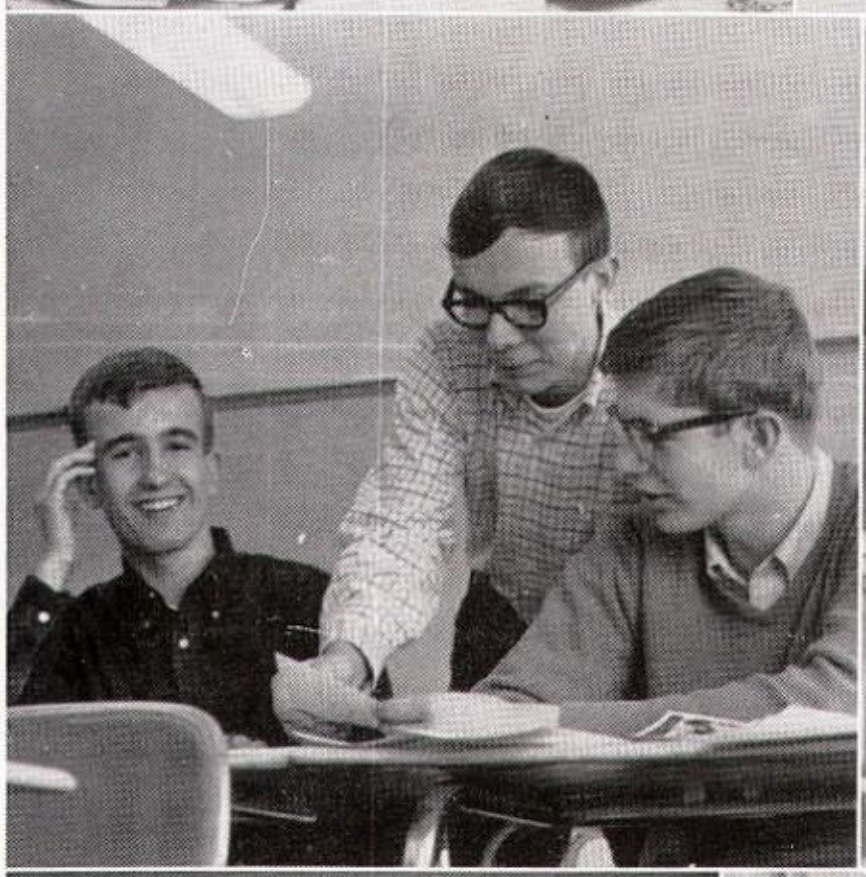
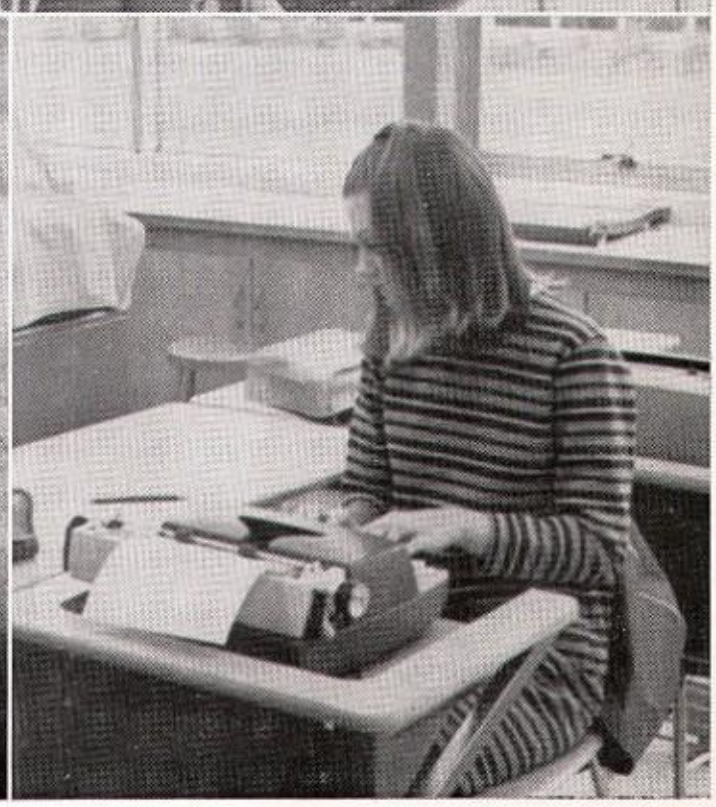
DRAGON Editors provide students with a unique book of memories.







The One remains, the many change and pass;
Heaven's light forever shines, Earth's shadows fly;
Life like a dome of many-colored glass,
Stains the white radiance of Eternity . . . .

John Keats

THE MEMBERS OF THE 1968 DRAGON BUSINESS BOARD WISH TO EXPRESS THEIR SINCERE THANKS FOR THE FINE SUPPORT AND ENCOURAGEMENT WHICH THEY RECEIVED FROM THE BUSINESS-MEN AND OTHER INTERESTED PERSONS WHO HAVE HELPED TO MAKE THIS YEARBOOK POSSIBLE.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

We wish to thank all the students and faculty members who have helped us with this volume of the DRAGON. Special thanks go to Mr. John Camigliano, our advisor, Mr. Passaro, our principal, and Mr. Edward Miller, our business advisor, for their invaluable help, and to Mrs. Andersen for her technical assistance. Mr. Mahan deserved special recognition for his fine photography. To Mr. Berdine of Keystone Printing, Mr. Carlson of Zimmerman Engraving, and to Mr. Bernard Cohen we extend sincere appreciation. We also thank the WARREN TIMES-MIRROR AND OBSERVER for pictures.
